HISTORY AND BELLES-LETTRES

HOW ENGLAND SAVED EUROPE

THE STORY OF THE GREAT WAR, 1793-1815

By W. H. FITCHETT

Author of "Deeds that Won the Empire," "Fights for the Flag," etc. To be in 4 vols. Each, illustrated, 12mo, $2 00

VOL. I.—FROM THE LOW COUNTRIES TO EGYPT.
VOL. II.—NELSON AND THE STRUGGLE FOR THE SEA.
VOL. III.—THE CAMPAIGN IN THE PENINSULA.

"DR. FITCHETT is sympathetic toward ability wherever he finds it, and his entertaining style should give him a wide circle of readers."—THE NATION.

"THE work is worthy of the author of 'Deeds that Won the Empire' and 'Fights for the Flag.' Mr. Fitchett gives us in chronological order and with a few connecting links a series of pictures naval and military. This may not be the history required by the student and the politician, but it is exactly the sort of history desired by the million."—The Spectator.

"THE plan and point of view of the work distinguish it at once from all existing histories of the period."—REVIEW OF REVIEWS.

PRACTICAL AGITATION

By JOHN JAY CHAPMAN, author of "Emerson and Other Essays," "Causes and Consequences," etc. 12mo, $1.25.

MR. CHAPMAN'S new book is a brilliant essay on the practicability of political reform if concentrated wholly on the moral side of the question. He is as caustic in criticism of present conditions as he is optimistic about prospects, and he writes with an intensity and incisiveness that endue the subject with vivid interest and succeed in communicating to the reader the conviction of the author.

CHOPIN: THE MAN AND HIS MUSIC

By JAMES HUNEKER With photogravure portrait, 12mo, $2.00

Part I. The Man Part II. His Music

A BRILLIANT work, by the author of "Mezzotints in Modern Music," portraying The Man with extraordinary vividness, and presenting an exhaustive, critical, and descriptive analysis of His Music with insight and authority.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR MEZZOTINTS IN MODERN MUSIC 12mo, $1.50

"A distinctly original and very valuable contribution to the world's tiny musical literature."—"J. F. R." in Saturday Review.

THE WAYS OF MEN

12mo, $1.50

By ELIOT GREGORY "An Idler"

MR. GREGORY, who made a decided hit with his first book of social appreciations, has in the present volume somewhat extended the scope of his topics and writes in his personal and entertaining way of various literary and art themes as well.

Author of "Worldly Ways and Byways"

Scribner's Spring Announcement

OUR NATIVE TREES, AND HOW TO IDENTIFY THEM

Cr. 8vo. By HARRIET L. KEELER $2.00

TECHNICALLY accurate, Miss Keeler's book is designed for popular use in the identification of the forest trees of Northeastern America, and in the study of their habits and peculiarities.

ILLUSTRATIONS

SCOPE
FULL DESCRIPTIONS OF THE TREES COMPRISING 26 FAMILIES.

ARRANGEMENT
IN COMPACTNESS, CLEARNESS AND CONVENIENCE FOR REFERENCE, UNRIVALLED.

The apparatus of the book is so full and so varied that the lover of nature will find it an indispensable companion. It is not a dry, technical manual, but has a high literary quality. It is copiously, richly and helpfully illustrated.

INTERPRETATIONS OF POETRY AND RELIGION

By GEORGE SANTAYANA, Author of "The Sense of Beauty," etc. 12mo, $1.50

IN the introductory essay the author deals with the imagination and its relation to the understanding on the one hand and to mysticism on the other. The way is then scientifically cleared for an exaltation of its functions in the world of thought and emotion, and this constitutes the keynote of the essays which follow, viz.: the inadequacy of any view of life unillumined by the imagination. The volume is truly creative criticism and is certain to provoke controversy.

ANGLO-SAXONS AND OTHERS

By ALINE GORREN 12mo, $1.50

IN this book Miss Aline Gorren considers the question of Anglo-Saxon superiority, its causes, the likelihood of its permanence, and its effect upon English and American character. The feature of the book is the note of warning which the author utters, the weaknesses of the race being analyzed with fulness and fearlessness.

HISTORICAL TALES FROM SHAKESPEARE

By A. T. QUILLER-COUCH 12mo, $1.50

MR. QUILLER-COUCH'S plan in this book has been to throw into plain, simple, narrative form the stories in the historical plays of Shakespeare, with the idea of representing these vivid pictures so that young readers may be attracted to them. He has kept to the story, but made it a story of men's motives and feelings as well as of actual events. The book does for the historical plays what Lamb's "Tales from Shakespeare" does for the comedies and tragedies.

THE ROMANTIC TRIUMPH

By T. S. OMOND, M.A., Late Fellow of St. John's College, Oxford. 12mo, $1.50, net

A NEW volume in the Periods of European Literature, edited by Professor Saintsbury. The author's aim has been to give the student a comprehensive survey of the effect on European literature of the political revolution of 1788 and the succeeding years, the revolt against Classicism which resulted in the Romantic Triumph in the present century.

STANDARD WHIST FOR BEGINNERS

By FISHER AMES 16mo, 75 cents

PART I.—STANDARD WHIST FOR BEGINNERS. PART II.—AMERICAN LEADS AND OTHER CONVENTIONALITIES.

A VALUABLE addition to the books which have made Mr. Ames such an authority on Whist. The best Whist experts are now turning from modern innovations, new systems and conventionalities, to the simple, natural game. To teach the simple game plainly is the object of Mr. Ames's new book.

A NEW BOOK BY HENRY VAN DYKE

THE TOILING OF FELIX, AND OTHER POEMS

THE TOILING OF FELIX
VERA
THE ECHO IN THE HEART
ANOTHER CHANCE
THE ANGLER'S REVEILLE
THE RIVER OF DREAMS, ETC., ETC.

A NEW book by the author of "The Builders," "Little Rivers," and "Fisherman's Luck," having the same qualities of deep but refined feeling, a sympathetic, hopeful outlook on life, and finished literary form, which have made his verse noteworthy. 12mo, $1.00.

THE GARDEN OF EDEN

By BLANCHE WILLIS HOWARD

THIS novel, strongly characteristic of Mme. von Teuffel's best manner, elaborates with great sympathy and insight one of the distinctive questions of modern society. There are minor scenes and persons of the story done with a charming fidelity.

Author of "Guenn," "One Summer," etc.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE GREATER INCLINATION"

THE TOUCHSTONE

12mo, $1.25

By EDITH WHARTON

A Novel of Unusual Power

READERS of Mrs. Wharton's stories in her earlier volume, "The Greater Inclination," will be prepared to find her short novel, "The Touchstone," what it is, a very unusual and brilliant story of a singular situation, the interest of which is tense. The act which sets the story in motion is one of those which brings a train of psychological as well as outward consequences upon its author, which Mrs. Wharton follows with a searching accuracy that holds the reader closely.

THE GRIP OF HONOR

12mo. $1.50.

A Romance of the Revolution

By Cyrus Townsend Brady

AN absorbing patriotic romance, full of dramatic action and picturesque incidents, having for its background the dashing story of John Paul Jones's career in the Ranger and the Bon Homme Richard. As in his two other romances, Mr. Brady's gift of dramatic narrative and the accuracy of his historical and naval knowledge make his new story fascinating reading.

BOYS AND MEN

12mo, $1.25

A Story of Life at Yale

By RICHARD HOLBROOK

AGAINST the background of a remarkably true picture, full of atmosphere, of life at Yale, Mr. Holbrook has brought into relief the story of how, under varied college influences, two boys develop into men. This serious purpose of the book as a study of undergraduate character is relieved by the variety and humor of the many college types portrayed.

SMITH COLLEGE STORIES

Ten Stories. By JOSEPHINE DODGE DASKAM 12mo, $1.50

AN animated picture of a particularly active-minded and picturesque community is contained in Miss Daskam's volume. "Smith" may be taken as an epitome of the woman's college world, and these ten stories have a real value accordingly in showing what the undergraduate life of many thousands of American young women really is in its varied phases.

THE BOSS OF TAROOMBA

By E. W. HORNUNG, Author of "The Amateur Cracksman," etc.

The Ivory Series, 16mo, 75 cents

ANOTHER romance of life in the bush, by the author of "Irralie's Bushranger." Naomi, the Boss of Taroomba, is a self-reliant and attractive heroine, who owns a sheep ranch, and falls in love with a travelling musician, who is touring the country districts of Australia. Life in this rough country, including thrilling experiences with bushrangers, forms the background for an engrossing love story.

ENOCH WILLOUGHBY

12mo, $150

A Novel of the Middle West

By JAMES A. WICKERSHAM

THE author's characters are portrayed with sympathy, knowledge and humor, and are racy of the soil of the Middle West a generation ago. Both as a study of what may perhaps be described as the strenuous spiritual life of the region and period and as a story of human love this novel will take high rank.

RED BLOOD AND BLUE

By HARRISON ROBERTSON, Author of "If I Were a Man." 12mo, $1.50

A CHARMING story of the South, with two heroes, whose relative social rank is indicated in the title, and a heroine who is wooed by each of them in his way. An ingenious plot that holds the interest from the start, deals with the career of each of these men as soldier and as citizen, as well as with their rivalry for the favor of the heroine.

THE MONK AND THE DANCER

12mo By ARTHUR COSSLETT SMITH In Press

MR. SMITH'S stories are in varied vein and take the reader from London to Palestine and Algiers to Virginia, but they are extremely individual in their common authorship, and marked in a very unusual degree by personal quality and literary art.

TOOMEY AND OTHERS

Illustrated By ROBERT SHACKLETON 12mo. In Press

IN this collection of stories Mr. Shackleton describes with fidelity, pathos, and humor the variegated life in New York's crowded districts. They are all strong, clean stories, told simply and forcibly. The Lower East Side, Blackwell's Island, Cherry Hill, and the thronged sidewalks are the scenes of the tales.

Have Now Ready

TOLSTOY'S GREAT NOVEL,

Entitled

RESURRECTION

By the Author of "War and Peace," "Anna Karenina," etc., etc.

12mo, Cloth, with Illustrations, . . $1.50.

THIS novel of Tolstoy's, it was feared, would not be completed in time for Spring publication, but the publishers are glad to announce that Count Tolstoy's health has permitted his completing it and that the American edition is now ready.

It is a sombre but tremendously powerful novel touching upon many tragedies and problems of life in the Russia of to-day. It shows the genius of "Anna Karenina" blended with a more mature comprehension of human life and character. The "Great Master of the North" has written in "Resurrection" a harrowing yet absorbing story with all his old fervor, and with a deeper and more searching spiritual understanding. The theme is that of a woman's life weighed down and well nigh extinguished by the most terrible misfortunes and tragedies, but finally, through the power of love, resurrected and made new.

Count Tolstoy's determination to write no more fiction has been overcome by his desire to assist the Doukhobors in their exodus from their grievous oppression in Russia to the provinces of Canada. Five years ago he wrote the synopsis of this novel, which he then laid aside, but has since taken up and completed. It is published simultaneously in Russia, Germany, France, Austria, Denmark, Great Britain, and America, and the proceeds will be devoted to settling the Doukhobors in their Canadian home.

A CELEBRATED CRITIC HAS SAID OF IT:

"There is little in this noble and yet heart-breaking work to explain the prudery of those who wanted to take great liberties with the original. Here and there a few lines might with advantage be omitted. But the purpose of the great author is so manifestly pure, and the form in which he has cast his thought is so impeccable, that only the indecent could take umbrage. 'Resurrection' will rank with the most vital and beautiful studies of our poor humanity the world has seen."

FOUR SUCCESSFUL BOOKS.

84TH 1000

"RED ROCK," by Thomas Nelson Page, is steadily increasing in popularity since its publication, and is being recognized as one of the most interesting and valuable studies of American life and character that has yet appeared. The London Speaker pronounced it "the best story dealing with the American Civil War and the history of the South subsequent to that great struggle that has yet been published." (Illustrated by Clinedinst. 12*mo*, $1.50.)

45TH 1000

Mrs. Burnett's novel "In connection with THE DE WILLOUGHBY CLAIM," has, since its appearance late last fall, sold more rapidly that any book which Mrs. Burnett ever published. It has been praised everywhere by competent judges as her greatest novel, the London Daily Chronicle saying, "Mrs. Burnett has never written better than in this story. She has never delineated character more delicately, more sympathetically, her pathos has never been truer, her manner more engaging." (12*mo*, $1.50.)

41ST 1000

Ernest Seton-Thompson's "WILD ANIMALS I HAVE KNOWN" promises to have a success unparalleled for a book of its class. Every week seems to increase the demand for this extremely popular book which is now having its largest sales. The Mail and Express says: "In depicting animal life and character, Mr. Seton-Thompson has probably no peer in this country, and this delightful volume shows us that his pen is as mighty as his marvellous brush." (It is illustrated by its artist-author. Sq. 8*vo*, $2.00.)

22ND 1000

"FISHERMAN'S LUCK," Dr. van Dyke's charming volume of out-of-door essays, is being widely read, both by lovers of nature and lovers of literature, for it appeals to both with a more than ordinary force. The New York Tribune calls it "a captivating and valuable little book," and the fact that its sales have reached a total of twenty two thousand copies in one short season, proves that it is being widely read and highly praised. ("The illustrations form a tempting feature of the work."—The Dial. Cr. 8*vo*, $2.00.)

All the above books have been very successful, and justly so. They are books you can recommend with the certainty that they will be liked, and that the customer will be glad to rely again on your judgment.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Cammann, W: C., and others, eds. History of troop "A," New York cavalry U. S. V., from May 2 to November 28, 1898, in the Spanish-American war; published by the troop for private circulation. N. Y., R. H. Russell, 1899. c. 348 p. il. pl. por. maps, 8°, cl., $3.

Chandler, Jos. Everett, ed. Colonial architecture of Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. Bost., Bates & Guild Co., 1900. c. 3 p. 50 pl. f°, $12.

Chapman, J: Jay. Practical agitation. N. Y., Scribner, 1900. c. 6+157 p. D. cl., $1.25.

"An attempt," the writer says, "to follow the track of personal influence across society." The first three chapters are taken up with discussions of political reform, the fourth chapter with contemporary journalism. The results of these discussions are then summarized in the chapters called "Principles."

Craig, Asa B., and Gunnison, Binney, comps Pieces for prize speaking contests; a collection of over one hundred pieces which have taken prizes in prize speaking contests. N. Y., Hinds & Noble, 1899. c. 448 p. 12°, cl., $1.25.

Daudet, Alphonse Works [Limited ed v. 15-16.] Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1899. c. 2 v., pl. 8°, cl., ea., $1.50.

Contents: v. 15, The immortal; also The struggle for life; tr. by G. B. Ives; v. 16, Sappho; also Between the flies and the footlights; tr. by G. B. Ives.

Davis, G: Burwell. Elements of international law; with account of its origin, sources, and historical development. New rev. enl. ed. N. Y., Harper, 1900. c. 26+612 p. O. cl., $2.50.

There has been a general revision of the text of this edition, and the insertion of some of the more important cases to which the international experience of the last fifteen years has given rise. The volume remains, what it was intended to be from the first, a text-book for the use of students.

Delbridge, C: Lomax. Delbridge's six per cent. interest calculator, October, 1899. St. Louis, Mo., Delbridge Co., 1899. c. 65 p. 4°, cl., $8.

Friedman, I. K. Poor people: a novel. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1900. c. 3+244 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The story deals with tenement life in Chicago. It is a mixture of tragedy and comedy, cleverly put together and related with much kindly sympathy. The characters are the working poor, and it is of their hardships, loves and follies, as well as their heroisms and fidelities, that the author writes.

Goldsmith, Oliver. The vicar of Wakefield; a tale supposed to be written by himself; ed. by Rose A. Witham. Bost., Allyn & Bacon, [1899.] c. 7+243 p. por. 12°, (Academy ser. of English classics.) cl., 40 c.

Hall, Frank H. Complete arithmetic, oral and written. Chic., Werner School Book Co., [1899.] c. 447 p. 12°, (Hall's mathematical ser.) cl., 60 c.

Hinkson, Mrs. Katharine Tynan. She walks in beauty: [a novel.] Chic., A. C. McClurg & Co., 1900. 3+310 p. 12°, cl., $1.50.

Hornung, Ernest W: The boss of Taroomba. N. Y., Scribner, 1900. 7+239 p. nar. D. (Ivory ser.) cl., 75 c.

A story of the Australian bush. The "boss" is an attractive young woman, the sole owner of Taroomba, a large sheep ranch. Life on this ranch, with a sheep-shearing and an attack upon its lonely home by tramps, in the absence of all the men, is full of local color. There is a love story in which the chief characters are a German piano-tuner, and an Englishman, the superintendent of the ranch—both suitors to the "boss."

Kane, Alice L. Echoes from the spirit world. [Fiction.] Topeka, Kan., Crane & Co., 1899. c. 142 p. por. 12°, cl., 75 c.

Locke, W: J: The white dove: a novel. N. Y., J. Lane, 1900. c. '99. 391 p. D. cl., $1.50.

An ideal English country gentleman and his son, a noted physician, are the chief characters in a story written to enforce that it is well to let "mercy temper justice." Both men had noble wives who in their youth had yielded to temptation. How the father, mellowed by life, looks upon human weakness is strongly contrasted with the hard judgment of his virtuous and untempted son.

Longcope, E. M. Things taxable. (4th ed.) Stamp taxes under schedule A, arr. and comp. alphabetically, with exemptions under each subject; being also a digest of the decisions of the commissioner of internal revenue, [etc.] Houston, Tex., E. M. Longcope, 1899. c. 86 p. O. pap., 75 c.

Mann, Rufus. The prelude and the play. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1900. c. 2+416 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The scene of the first part of this story is laid in a large university town. The heroine, a college girl of talent and distinction, marries the captain of a victorious eleven. They go West to live, and are gradually estranged by the pressure of business and temporary lack of tactful sympathy. All this is very well told, also the way in which they are reunited.

Mather, Marshall. John Ruskin, his life and teaching. 6th ed. N. Y., F: Warne & Co., [1900.] 8+184 p. por. 12°, cl., $1.25.

Bibliography, 171-179 p.

Mayer, H: Fantasies in ha! ha! Forty pictorial stories told by H: Mayer; an appreciation by R. B. Hennessy. N. Y., Meyer Bros. & Co., [1899.] c. 28 p. il. 8°, cl., $1.50.

Moore, C: The Northwest under three flags, 1635-1796. N. Y., Harper, 1900. c. 23+402 p. il. por. O. cl., $2.50.

Written in an easy narrative style is told the story of the French, English and American possession of our Northwest. A number of errors and misapprehensions which have been sanctioned by previous writers are corrected. Contents: The French occupy the Northwest; Cadillac founds Detroit; The English in the Ohio country; The Pontiac war; England takes possession of the Northwest; The Quebec act and the revolution; The war in the Northwest; Peace that proves no peace; The Northwest provided with a government; The United States win the Northwest posts.

Morris, C: Man and his ancestor: a study in evolution. N. Y., Macmillan, 1900. c. 6+238 p. S. cl., $1.25.

A frank endorsement of the Darwinian theory of the origin of man. The subject is considered in thirteen chapters, viz: Evolution versus creation; Vestiges of man's ancestry; Relics of ancient man; From quadruped to biped; The freedom of the arms; The development of intelligence; Origin of language; How the chasm was bridged; First stage of human evolution; Conflict with nature; Warfare and civilization; The evolution of morality; Man's relation to the spiritual.

Mott, E: Harold. Between the ocean and the lakes: the story of Erie. Library ed. N. Y., J: S. Collins, 1899. c. 540 p. pors 8°, cl., $7.

Murger, Henri. Bohemian life; tr. by G. B. Ives; etchings by C. L. Courtry. Phil., G: Barrie & Son, 1899. c. 20+463 p. pl. por. 8°, (Roman contemporain, Romancists, v. 1.) cl., $10. [Limited ed. of 1000 copies.]

Musset, L: C: Alfred de. Confession of a child of the century; tr. by T. F. Rogerson; etchings by E. Abot. Phil., G: Barrie & Son, [1899.] c. 379 p. pl. 8°, (Roman contemporain, Romancists, v. 2.) cl., $10.

New Jersey. The general corporation act; being "A act concerning corporations" (revision of 1896,) including the amendments and supplements to the end of the legislative session of 1899; with precedents and forms; by Ja. B. Dill. N. Y., Baker Voorhis & Co., 1899. c. 30+227 p. O. cl., $3.

New York. General laws, cont. all amendments to the close of the session of 1899: comp. and ed. by E: L. Heydecker. Alb., Matthew Bender, 1900. c. 4 v., 20+1464; 1501-2585; 2601-4108; 386 p. O. shp., $15. (v. 4 index arr. both topically and alphabetically, including the session laws of 1899.)

Power, J: Tables showing the law of descent of real estate and distribution of personal estate of intestates in the state of New York. Alb., W. C. Little & Co., 1899. c. 58 p. O. hf. cl., 50 c.

Remington, F: Drawings. New ed. N. Y., R. H. Russell, 1900. 8°, bds., $5.

Riggs, Ja. Stevenson, D.D. History of the Jewish people during the Maccabean and Roman periods; incl. New Testament times. N. Y., Scribner, 1900. c. 21+320 p. maps, D. cl., net, $1.25.

"While this work is meant to be a history of the Jewish people for two hundred and forty years of its existence, it is no less a contribution towards the interpretation of the gospels in so far as a knowledge of the faiths, conditions, and aims of Judaism can be interpretative of the form and method of the activity of Jesus."—Preface. Dr. Riggs is professor of Biblical criticism, Auburn Theological Seminary.

Robinson, Rowland Evans. A Danvis pioneer: a story of one of Ethan Allen's Green Mountain boys. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1900. c. 3+214 p. S. cl., $1.25.

A story dealing with the settling of Vermont, the struggles between the Green Mountain boys and the "Yonkers," and the beginning of the Revolution. The pioneer is Josiah Hill, who later figures as "Granther Hill" in "Danvis folks," by the same author.

Skulik, Rev. Bernard M. Whiskey: a treatise against the use of same; in English or German. Milwaukee, Wis., C. N. Caspar Co., 1900. c. 42 p. 12°, pap., ea., 20 c.

Stevens, G: Barker, D.D. Messages of Paul; arr. in historical order, analyzed and freely rendered in paraphrase, with introds. N. Y., Scribner, 1900. c. 13+268 p. sq. S. (Messages of the Bible.) cl., net, $1.25.

Comprises a paraphrase of the first ten epistles of Paul, arranged in their probable chronological order, with brief introductions and analyses. The body of the text is reproduced, with some revision, from the author's "Epistles of Paul in modern English," published in 1898. It is believed that the explanations given of the time, place, and occasion of each letter and the indications respecting the contents and movement of thought in each, will materially increase the convenience and usefulness of the work.

Storey, Moorfield. Charles Sumner. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1900. 4+466 p. D. (American statesmen.) cl., $1.25.

Treats of Sumner's birth and education; European experience; professional life; entrance into public life; election to the senate; the repeal of the Missouri compromise; the Brooks assault; triumph of the Republican party; secession vs. compromise; emancipation; the Trent affair; the end of slavery; critical period of the Civil War; reconstruction and equal rights; the struggle with President Johnson; Alaska; the Alabama claims; the impeachment; Grant's administration; San Domingo and the contest with Grant, etc.

Thomas, A: Alabama: a drama in four acts. New il. ed. N. Y., R. H. Russell, 1900. 148 p. 12°, bds., $1.

United States. Circuit ct. of appeals. Reports with annots; with table of cases in the U. S. circuit courts of appeals which have been passed upon by the supreme court of the U. S., and table of cases in the U. S. courts of appeals in which rehearings have been granted or denied. v. 37. Rochester, N. Y., Lawyers' Co-op.

Pub. Co., 1900. c. 40+715 p. O. shp., $2.85.

Universal cyclopædia. New ed. prepared by a corps of editors, assisted by eminent European and American specialists, under the direction of C. K. Adams, editor-in-chief. v. 5-7. N. Y., Appleton, 1900. c. 3 v., il. pl. maps, 4°, subs.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

John Lane, 251 Fifth Avenue, New York, has begun the publication of The Bodley Head Bulletin, which will give notice, in attractive form, of his new and forthcoming publications, as well as such other matter as may "embellish our modest chronicle with the beauties that abound in the fields of literature and art, and thus delight the æsthetic taste, by blending imagination with fact and by uniting knowledge with fancy." (8 p. 4°. 50 c. a year.)

Burgersdijk & Niermans, of Leyden, Holland, have published an important catalogue of European theological literature. Though intended as a sales catalogue and issued by dealers of second-hand books this catalogue will easily command a place in any reference library, inasmuch as it brings together nearly twenty thousand titles of works on theology in all languages. Besides the author entries, the titles are also grouped under class headings, and references are made to well-known theologians or historical personages which form the subject of works included in the catalogue. There are also listed 1024 portraits of eminent theologians. The volume is furnished in this country by Lemcke & Buechner, 812 Broadway, New York. (No. 48, 870 p. 8°. cl., 3 shillings.)

The Franklin Association of Philadelphia is preparing to publish an interesting piece of bibliography under the title of "The History of the Montreal Stage," by Frank T. Graham. The material for the work has been gathered in no less than six different countries and from sources far removed from the general reader. The annals of the Montreal stage, which extend back to 1786, form a most valuable adjunct to the history of the New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and Southern theatres in recording the annual incursions to Canada of the forces of the Walnut, Chestnut, and Arch Street Theatres; the uninterrupted summer season of Wallack's company for a period of twenty years, the early Bostonians, Ben De Bar's from New Orleans and St. Louis, and J. W. Albaugh.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MARCH 17, 1900.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.
Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE SPRING OUTLOOK.

THE opening days of 1900 have been satisfactory to almost every business in the country. To the book-trade they have brought prosperity unapproached for at least ten years, and unprecedented in certain peculiar features. For the first time there has been none of the absolute quiet, almost stagnation that has always followed the rush and activity of the fall and the holiday trade. Without any perceptible break business has gone steadily on, the orders from all over the country coming to the publishers with regularity, in a number of cases putting them to their mettle to fill them in time to satisfy the waiting bookseller. The great publishing successes of last year are still keeping the presses busy, and according as the books reach the publisher in cases, these may often be simply re-labelled and passed along to the impatiently waiting jobber and retailer. The advertisements in the present number of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY show how the successful books of the New Year also are steadily mounting toward the 100,000 mark. The American historical novel is being read all over the world, and as one after another they appear they show no falling off either in the accuracy of their history or in the literary skill of its presentation.

The publishers as a rule conserve all their strength for the fall season. In view of this known fact the quantity and quality of their announcements encourage hopeful anticipation of a very prosperous trade for the close of the great nineteenth century which first gave to America a distinctive literature.

The books of the spring are chiefly in the departments of Education and Fiction. Although we are at the very beginning of the spring the summer follows fast, and for the summer large quantities of fiction are always in order. The standard of this great branch of literature rises steadily, and the announcements include work by authors whose names mean good work. In the cheap libraries, even, almost all the books are good ones for which arrangements have been made with the publishers of the better printed and more durable editions. All seem to recognize that lasting profit rests only in the better books.

The excellent reading provided for schools in place of the disconnected "reader" of a generation ago forms an important part of the educational announcements. The classics, the standard literature, and noted books in foreign languages, are all edited, annotated and made interesting for young readers, so that while learning to read or studying foreign languages they now absorb the best literature of every land.

IN the Index to Spring Announcements, printed elsewhere in this issue, the trade will find a new departure in the method of recording announcements of books to be published during the Spring and Summer months, which we trust will prove to be more helpful and satisfactory than the old system. As the number of books announced each season grew year by year until it had reached immense proportions the system which had proved sufficient when the output of books was smaller became less efficient as a guide for the bewildered bookseller. We have therefore modified, or rather recast our former arrangement, and now record the announcements in one list by author and title with such advance information as was available, and in a second list in which all the books are grouped alphabetically by author under classes. The bookseller is thus in a position to find at once the books of which either author or title may be known as well as to see at a glance all the new books to be brought out in certain classes. The new method is a part of the new system of bibliography introduced with the present year, and we trust it will be found of value to all who have to deal with books.

THE OFFICE OF THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY will remove on the 17th inst. to 298 Broadway, between Reade and Duane Streets, where it will occupy the sixth floor. The new quarters are in some respects even more accessible than were the old, the cars of the Metropolitan Street Railway system passing the door, the east side "L" station at City Hall and the west side "L" station at Chambers Street and West Broadway both being a block nearer than before.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE.

FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING.

THE fifth annual meeting of the Booksellers' League was held on the evening of the 14th inst. at the rooms of the Aldine Association, upwards of sixty persons being present. After the dinner, Mr. Price Collier wittily, and in a most entertaining manner, described how he came to write his book "America and Americans," and why the writing of such a book seemed to him necessary. It may be said here that while Mr. Collier is not blind to the shortcomings of his countrymen, and on many occasions courageously undertook to admonish them, he also proved his loyalty to his country in her need by serving in her navy during the Spanish-American war. Mr. Collier's address was frequently interrupted by hearty applause.

The president of the League, W. H. Parker, then called upon the Secretary, S. F. McLean, to read the annual report of the Board of Managers as follows:

To the President and Members of the Booksellers' League.

Your Board takes pleasure in submitting to your consideration the following record of growth and signs of success during the past year.

Since the last annual meeting, March 3, 1899, the Board has held eleven meetings, and provided seven dinners and the annual dinner. Attendance at Board meetings has averaged eleven present, out of a possible eighteen, and there has been a uniform spirit of harmony and willingness to work for the League's interests. The League now numbers 135 members. A year since, our membership numbered about 150, but it should be borne in mind that the Board, acting under the provisions of our constitution, because of non-payment of dues, dropped from the rolls a number of names which a year ago figured as members. These delinquent members had been carried on the rolls, for a year or more, in the hope that they would eventually pay up and continue their membership, and efforts were made by the Board to bring that desirable condition about. The present kindly feeling towards the League is shown, we think, by the fact that at the last Board meeting, fourteen new members were elected, and nine at the preceding meeting. It should be but a short time now, when the League will have a larger membership than ever before.

During the year past the League has thrice changed its quarters for its monthly dinners, each time for better quarters and better service, until the present well-nigh ideal conditions have been reached. Notwithstanding increased expenses, our Treasurer reports a cash balance at the last Board meeting, nearly $100 in excess of that in his hands a year since; said balance being now $304.85.

The monthly dinners have been uniformly pleasant and profitable, and have been followed by talks or impromptu discussions on subjects pertinent to our profession. The following gentlemen have also addressed us on these occasions: C. H. Hutchinson, of New Bedford, on Cuba; E. H. Mullin, "English novels of the second rank;" A. Growoll, on binders of note; Ernest Knaufft, on book illustrating; F. J. Pfister, on the tooling of fine bound books; and F. W. Halsey, on too many books, etc.

The recent annual dinner was largely attended, and the speeches on that occasion, by W. B. Van Ingen, on "Japanese Art;" by Edwin Markham, on "Books and the light they have given me;" by Foster Crowell (illustrated by the stereopticon) on "Via Nicaragua;" and by Ernest Seton-Thompson, were all heartily enjoyed, as was the singing of Mr. Barclay Dunham.

Besides the regular dinners, the League had an enjoyable trolley ride and dinner, at Far Rockaway, last summer.

The Treasurer's Annual Report is as follows:

JAMES B. BRIGHAM,
Treasurer.

JOHN BRIGGS, CASS RICHARDSON, } Auditing Committee.

One of the most important features of the League's work, a feature which benefits the members, and, in even a greater degree, those who are not members, (and that without cost,) is the Employment Bureau. This department, under the tactful and faithful management of C. E. Bonnell, as in other years, has been markedly successful. Mr. Bonnell reports for the past year:

Applications for employment received, ...	162
Applications from employers for assistants, ..	85
Positions secured, ...	116

Of these 116 positions secured through the instrumentality of the League, not more than 5 per cent. were secured by members. This being the case, it would seem to be proper and just that a nominal fee of 75 c. or $1.00 should be charged to those, not members of the League, after situations have been secured. A year ago, Mr. Bonnell reported, for the preceding year:

Applications from the trade for various assistants,	33
Applications for positions, ...	52
Situations secured through the League, ...	36

It will be seen, therefore, that during the past year this department more than trebled its usefulness. The successful endeavors of this single department should warrant the continued hearty support of publishers and booksellers—alike the employer and the employee.

A year ago the report of your Board terminated thus: "The League is in a financially prosperous condition, and is growing. We believe that the coming year will show further growth and prosperity." That belief has become assurance. The experimental stage is passed. We have assumed a size and importance of which we have reason to be proud. But your Board again suggests, as last year, that "each member should have constantly in mind the League's interests; the success of the organization as a whole, depending very largely upon the efforts of its individual members."

The election for president resulted in the unanimous choice of Charles E. Butler of Brentano's, one of the founders of the League and always most active in furthering its interests. The following were elected to serve as members of the Board of Managers for 1900-1902: J. B. Brigham, John Briggs, C. T. Dillingham, F. D. Lacy, W. H. Parker, and Cass Richardson.

DODD, MEAD & COMPANY IN THEIR NEW QUARTERS.

Dodd, Mead & Co. are about settled in their luxurious new quarters at Fifth Avenue and Thirty-fifth Street. Their migration marks the steady northward movement of the book trade of New York City, which began a century ago when the book trade left the Battery to cluster around the City Hall Park, and then gradually made its way to the neighborhood of Grand Street on Broadway, then to Astor Place, and later to Twenty-third Street. Some years ago the trade modestly extended tendrils along upper Fifth Avenue, and a few booksellers boldly established themselves on Forty-second Street; but the main body of the trade, conservative in all things, was slow in following. Now that one of its representative members has taken the lead others will no doubt follow, and the book trade in another generation will congregate in the vicinity of the great New York Public Library, the approach of the proposed bridge that is to connect New Jersey with New York, and the Grand Central Railway Station, which is at last to become in fact what it has been so long only in name, a grand railway station. Besides these atttractions, there are the immense neighboring hotels, always crowded with strangers who are the shopkeeper's most desirable patrons.

Dodd, Mead & Company foreseeing these changes and future opportunities have had built expressly for them a building at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-fifth Street. They have rented out a part on short term leases, and, in the event of the expansion of their business, will gradually occupy the whole building. As it is, they have double the space used in their former quarters, besides better light and a more desirable situation for their retail business.

Their present site is part of the Roosevelt property, recently the City Club, and in bygone days the residence of the Astors. It is on the northwest corner, with a frontage of 37 feet on Fifth Avenue and 135 feet on Thirty-fifth Street. The retail shop itself is on Fifth Avenue, and the publishing department occupies an "L," 25 by 100 feet on Thirty-fifth Street. The basement, where the wholesale stock is kept, and from which the shipping is done, is exceedingly large and light, having some 9000 square feet of floor space. The floors above are a little smaller.

As to the retail shop, it is certainly one of the most luxurious in New York, being furnished throughout in mahogany, with glass shelving for all the books, and a separate room for the rare books. The finely bound books are separated from the rest of the stock, so that they form a separate department. The entire establishment is admirably lighted and unusually attractive. The light green shades, used on all the windows, give an effect that is uncommonly pleasing, and in perfect harmony with the general tone of the store.

In the "L" are the publishing offices on the ground floor. Above on the second floor are the wholesale sample rooms and the editorial offices of The Bookman. The third floor is occupied by the offices of the "International Cyclopedia."

The force of employees in this new building number upwards of sixty people—a considerable force, when one remembers that the firm does none of its own printing, binding, or manufacturing.

The house of Dodd, Mead & Co., it will be remembered, was organized in 1870, and succeeded Moses H. Dodd, who began business in 1839 on Park Row, where the Old Brick Church stood, and where now stands the New York Times building. When the Brick Church was torn down in 1855 Mr. Dodd removed to No. 506 Broadway, and in 1870, upon his retiring from business, his son, Frank H. Dodd, and the late Edward S. Mead continued under the name of Dodd, Mead & Co., and removed to No. 762 Broadway. In 1875 the firm occupied a store at 751 Broadway, and in 1880 removed to Nos. 753-755 Broadway, where they remained till 1892. Then they moved to East Nineteenth Street, where they remained for two years. For the past five years they have been at Twenty-first Street and Fifth Avenue. Bleecker Van Wagenen became a member of the firm on January 1, 1876, and he, with Mr. Moses Dodd's two sons, Frank H. and Robert H., now comprise the firm. Edward S. Mead was a member of the firm from 1870 until his death, about a year ago.

REFUSED TO DECLARE HARPER & BROTHERS BANKRUPT.

Judge Brown of the United States District Court, at New York City, gave a decision on the 13th inst. refusing to declare the corporation of Harper & Brothers bankrupt. The decision followed an application by Albert Smith and others to have the old firm, recently reorganized, go through bankruptcy proceedings.

In denying the application Judge Brown said, in part: "On January 21, 1900, a petition was filed by three creditors to have Harper & Brothers adjudged bankrupt. Harper & Brothers were organized as a corporation under the laws of this State in 1896 upon a capitalization of $5,000,000. With the approval of about ninety per cent. of its creditors the directors on December 4, 1899, applied to the Supreme Court by petition to have the corporation dissolved and its affairs wound up pursuant to the laws of this State pertaining to domestic corporations. The petition in bankruptcy avers that the corporation was insolvent, and that its procuring of the appointment of a receiver in proceedings of its dissolution was a transfer made with intent to hinder, delay and defraud its creditors within the meaning of subdivision 1 of section 3, and subdivision E of section 67 of the Bankruptcy act; and that the conveyance to the receiver was void under the Bankruptcy act and fraudulent as to the creditors of the corporation."

The decision cites former decisions bearing upon the case and says: "In view, therefore, of the recent decision of the Court of Appeals, I think the petition should be at present denied. . . . I think it proper to deny adjudication of bankruptcy at this time, leaving it to the petitioning creditors, if so advised, to present the questions to the Appellate Court upon appeal from this decision."

OBITUARY NOTES.

HENRY EGBERT, formerly well known as an artist, died on the 12th inst. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Irwin, 438 Myrtle Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. He was 74 years old. His early boyhood was spent in learning the printing trade, and at the age of 18 years, while employed by Harper & Bros., he compiled Egbert's Drawing Books, which were published by Harper & Bros., and had a great vogue. He was the author of a number of character sketches, "Mose," "Lize," "Apple-Mary," and the "Lime Kiln Man," which attracted great attention and were afterward elaborated by Thomas Worth. During the regime of "Boss" Tweed he was the cartoonist for the newspaper known as The Day's Doings. He printed in this a cartoon entitled "The Three Disgraces," which represented Oakey Hall and Peter B. Sweeney supporting "Boss" Tweed. Oakey Hall, who was Mayor of New York City, was so enraged that he issued a manifesto and then suppressed the paper.

ANDREW W. TUER, well known to the printing world as managing director of the Leadenhall Press, London, died somewhat suddenly at his residence, Camden Hill Square, February 24. Mr. Tuer was born in 1838. He was educated at Newcastle and York, being intended for the church. While still a youth, however, he turned to medicine, and entered one of the London hospitals; but after a short course of medical study his love of books drew him into publishing. For a considerable period he carried on business as a partner in the firm of Field & Tuer, and some years ago he became managing director of the Leadenhall Press, an office which he held at the time of his death. Mr. Tuer made a special study of old prints and engravings printed in colors direct from the copper plate. His "Bartolozzi and His Works, Biographical, Anecdotal, and Descriptive," has been highly praised. Mr. Tuer also published the "History of the Horn Book," "Forgotten Children's Books," "London Cries," "Old London Street Cries and the Cries of To-day," "Bygone Beauties Painted by Hoppner," "The Book of Delightful and Strange Designs," the latter a hundred facsimile illustrations of the art of the Japanese stencil cutter, and an edition of Charles Lamb's "Prince Dolus." He contributed letters and papers on his favorite subjects to many journals and newspapers. Mr. Tuer was actively engaged to the last, so that the announcement of his death came with a shock to his friends. A man of energy and ideas he had many interests, but through them all he remained loyal to books, and especially to books connected with the subjects which he may be said to have made his own.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE publication of Leonard Huxley's biography of his illustrious father is postponed—possibly till the fall.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will publish Sir Walter Besant's new novel, "The Alabaster Box," a story of "Settlement" life in London.

THE Toronto representative of The Bowen-Merrill Company telegraphed on February 22: "How soon can you ship 1000 more 'Black Wolf's Breed?' Sold first edition on date of publication."

TRUSLOVE, HANSON & COMBA, Ltd., will publish early next month a work on "Sharpshooting for Sport and War," by W. W. Greener. They have just issued "Among Horses in Russia," by M. H. Hayes.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have in preparation a biography of Theodore Parker, by the Rev. John W. Chadwick. The volume will be uniform with Dr. Munger's "Life of Horace Bushnell," and will probably be published in the fall.

THE HOME PUBLISHING CO. announces that the first edition of Colonel Richard Henry Savage's novel, "The Shield of His Honor," was sold out in just twenty days after publication. A second edition of the book has just been brought out.

THE last of the late Grant Allen's Hilda Wade episodes was not finished at his death. Dr. Conan Doyle has completed the story upon lines which were laid down by Mr. Grant Allen himself in conversation. The matter was published in the Strand Magazine for February.

MEYER BROTHERS & Co. will publish shortly "Bibliomania in the Middle Ages," from the Anglo-Saxon and Norman periods to the introduction of printing into England, by Somner Merryweather. The work will be published uniform with the "Philobiblon," recently brought out by them.

A. W. SIJTHOFF, Leyden, has just ready in his series of reproductions of famous Greek and Latin texts, volume v., being "Plautus, Codex Heidelbergensis 1613 Palatinus C." The great value of this "Codex decurtatus" is so universally recognized that no words are needed to commend the reproduction of it to scholars or institutions of learning.

JAMES POTT & Co. have in preparation "The Children's Hour," a volume of short stories by the Rev. W. H. Pott, which is to be illustrated in color and will appear in the early autumn. About April 1, a new edition of "Books Which Have Influenced Me," made up of articles by Gladstone, Stevenson, Besant, Ruskin, and others will also be ready for the trade.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have just ready a compendious "Cyclopedia of Classified Dates," with an exhaustive index, by Charles E. Little, compiler of "Biblical Lights," etc. The volume will be of special use to students of history, and to persons who desire speedy access to facts and events which relate to the histories of the various countries of the world from the earliest recorded dates.

RICHARD G. BADGER & Co. will publish this spring a volume entitled "The Sledge," the first of a trilogy planned by R. V. Risley, the author of "Men's Tragedies." It is the author's intention to present three types of man, the type which smites, the type which endures and the type which gives light. The two other volumes of the series are to be entitled "The Anvil," and "The Candle," and will be published in the fall.

DOUBLEDAY & MCCLURE CO. will publish on the 22d inst. a new novel by Maurice Jokai, entitled "Debts of Honor." They have in active preparation a book by Grace Gallatin Seton-Thompson, wife of the author-artist, entitled, "A Woman Tenderfoot in the Rockies," which, besides a lot of interesting information about camping out, will present the woman's side of Ernest Seton-Thompson's sojourn in the wilds beyond the Great American desert.

THE H. B. CLAFLIN COMPANY, beginning with April 1, will raise the prices of the Swastica editions of Kipling's works; the "New Illuminated Holy Bible," with helps by the Revs. N. F. Peloubet, A. F. Schauffler, David Gregg, Prof. A. H. Sayce and others; the revised "Rand, McNally & Co.'s Atlas," and their seventeen new editions of the "Waverley Novels"—the lines which are known as their "Big Four." These lines will be raised ten per cent.

A. J. OCHS & Co., Boston, have in press a timely little book entitled, "A Summer in England, with a Continental Supplement," a handbook for the use of American women, compiled by the Women's Rest Tour Association, of which Mrs. Julia Ward Howe is the president. It furnishes useful hints and helps to all who intend making a European tour. They have just completed arrangements with the Geo. M. Hill Co., of Chicago, to act as New England agents for all their publications.

THE CLARENDON PRESS will shortly publish a work on Welsh folk-lore, for which Professor Rhys has for many years past been collecting materials. Its nucleus will be a collection of fairy tales which he contributed to Y Cymmrodor nearly twenty years ago, while the additional matter will include papers more recently read before the Cymmrodorion Society on "The Hunting of Twrch Trwyth," and on the holy wells and cave legends of Wales. A separate chapter will be devoted to Manx folk-lore.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish immediately "Israel's Messianic Hope, a study in the historical development of the foreshadowings of the Christ in the Old Testament and beyond," by George S. Goodspeed, professor of comparative religion and ancient history, University of Chicago; and two new novels—"A Breaker of Laws," by William Pett Ridge, which takes its name from the chief character in the book, a cockney burglar; and "A Friend of Cæsar," by William Stearns Davis.

THE MOULTON PUBLISHING COMPANY, Buffalo, N. Y., is preparing for publication the first volume of "The Library of Literary Criticism of English and American Authors," edited by Charles Wells Moulton, who has been assisted by a corps of able contributors. Briefly outlined, this work will consist of literary and personal criticisms and anecdotes referring to all the important authors known to English literature, with full indexes, the treatment to be in chronological order. The list will extend to about 1500 names. The quotations already cover about 150,000 separate articles gathered from 30,000 volumes. The work will be complete in eight large octavo volumes.

A. C. MCCLURG & Co. have in press a volume entitled "McLoughlin and Old Oregon," by Eva Emery Dye. There are few more interesting chapters in the history of the development of the country than that which tells of the growth of the vast territory of which Oregon formed but a part, from its occupation by a handful of British trappers to its inclusion as a part of the United States. The part played in this process by McLoughlin of the Hudson's Bay Co. and the heroic early settlers from the States is set forth by the author in a most picturesque and enjoyable narrative. They also announce a work by the Rev. Dr. John C. C. Clarke, entitled "Man and His Divine Father," in which the author is said to "present man and God as we know them by psychology and revelation, and to consider their relation to each other as shown by the Bible."

PROFESSOR JOHN FISKE has expressed much enthusiasm for a forthcoming book by George Iles, called "Flame, Electricity and the Camera," in which the author shows how wonderfully man's material progress has been accelerated through the multiplying of his resources by each new discovery along these lines. The change from the cave-man, just discovering that he could make flame, to the man at the verge of the twentieth century, who telegraphs without wires, photographs colors and performs all the other marvels of modern science, has an evolutionary bearing so impressive in his masterly survey that Professor Fiske wrote to Mr. Iles: "I have read the proof-sheets of your book with an intense interest growing into red-hot enthusiasm. It is one of the most fascinating books that I have seen in the past ten years. Your points are so well taken so happily and richly illustrated with examples, and their bearing on the main argument is so skilfully kept in view, that the result is to my mind a truly great book, and I venture to predict for it a great future. . . . I congratulate you with all my heart." The work will be published this spring by Doubleday, McClure & Co.

THOMAS B. MOSHER will publish shortly the seventh edition of FitzGerald's translation of the "Rubaiyat," in the Old World Series, which differs in several important particulars from Mr. Mosher's former issues of the book. The biographical sketch by Irving Way has been revised and somewhat enlarged. The parallel texts have been augmented and revised. In place of the variorum readings the text of FitzGerald's second edition has been collated anew and is here given entire. A comparative table of quatrains is also given, showing at a glance the many transpositions and changes made by FitzGerald during his lifetime. A pronouncing vocabulary has been inserted, together with some additional matter, under the supervision of Mr. Nathan Haskell Dole. Notable additions to the bibliography have also been made, together with an appendix, giving all the changes in the so-called FitzGerald fifth edition. Mr. Mosher has in preparation "Our Lady's Tumbler," a twelfth century legend done out of old French into English, by Philip H. Wicksteed; "Primavera: poems by four authors," with preface by John Addington Symonds; also, Mrs. Browning's "Sonnets from the Portuguese," with preface by Edmund Gosse.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—J. B. Harrison, formerly proprietor of the leading book and stationery store in Pittsfield, Mass., and for several years with Brentano's in New York and Washington, is now in charge of the stationery department of F. Vorenberg & Co., 13 and 15 Winter Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—Henry Miller, whose bookstore for years has been one of the landmarks on Nassau street, will remove about May 1, to No. 1 Barclay street, opposite the Astor House.

PRATT CITY, TENN.—E. W. Young's bookstore was entirely destroyed by fire a week ago.

PICK-UPS.

HIS REVENGE.—"How do you get even with contributors for sending more stuff than you can publish?" "I publish more stuff than people can read."—Harper's Bazar.

THERE ARE OTHERS.—Customer asks "Have you Trautwine?" "No, sir," replies the green clerk, "we do not sell fishing tackle. Two doors above they keep a good stock of trout lines."

ACCIDENTAL POISONING.—First Bookworm: "What is the matter, old fellow; not feeling well?" Second Bookworm: "I swallowed a mouthful of the New York Choinal by mistake, and its given me the jaundice."—Life.

THE BOOKSELLER KNEW.—A person recently called at Little, Brown & Co.'s store and handed one of the salesmen a memorandum, stating that he could not make out what his correspondent wanted, and did not know the books himself. The memorandum was as follows: "Ruskin's Acessimies of Lilies and Crown of Green Olives."

AUCTION SALES.

[Under this heading advance notices will be inserted, without charge, of book auction sales to be held anywhere in the United States. Word should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon to insure insertion in the same week's issue.]

MARCH 15, 16, 3 P.M.—Americana, medical, etc. (677 lots.)—Bangs.

MARCH 22, 23, 3 P.M.—Miscellaneous. (710 lots.)—Bangs.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office should either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

New and Immediately Forthcoming Books

DUDENEY'S FOLLY CORNER

By the author of "The Maternity of Harriott Wicken." 12mo, $1.25.

A story of love against reason in conflict with love conformable to reason, without the gloom of the author's earlier book.

"It shows the same deep insight into the complications of the human soul (as did the author's earlier novel). . . . This story from the opening page is tense with sustained power and is surely destined to be one of the most important contributions to this season's fiction."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

"These pictures have the true color, alive with the activity of nature or soothing in its quietude. They form a distinct feature of the book, beautify its pages and make them notable. . . . It has the elements in it of a wider popularity (than that of the author's earlier novel) which it deserves in every sense."—New York Mail and Express.

"We find just the same originality in plot, skill in character depiction and the effective presentation of events (which characterized 'The Maternity of Harriott Wicken.') . . . . The book deserves high praise. . . . The description of the life of Folly Corner, and the men and women seen there, is not surpassed by any work of any contemporary novelist. The book is a notable one in every way."—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

"Really interesting . . . the writing is generally vigorous and even brilliant. The comedy is first rate. . . . It is in fact a successful novel."—The Academy (London).

BARROW'S THE FORTUNE OF WAR

A Novel of the American Revolution. 12mo, $1.25.

The action takes place during the last year of the struggle, chiefly in New York City.

"Good work . . . told in a very attractive way . . . the book is decidedly one that will entertain."—Hartford Courant.

"An interesting story of the war for independence."—Philadelphia North American.

WELLS' HIS LORDSHIP'S LEOPARD

By the author of "Her Ladyship's Elephant." 12mo, $1.50. (In press.)

This wild extravaganza is more full of incident than the author's earlier story, and the scene is about equally divided between America and England.

The Nation said of Mr. Wells, apropos of "Her Ladyship's Elephant" ($1.25, now in its ninth impression): "He is probably funny because he cannot help it, a benefactor of his kind."

GODFREY'S THE HARP OF LIFE

By the author of "Poor Human Nature." Uniform with that Novel. 12mo, $1.50. (Ready in March.)

An intensely human story of an episode in the life of the first violin of an orchestra, at an English watering-place.

The Bookman said of "Poor Human Nature" ($1.50, now in its second impression): "It is well written, it is nobly felt, it is altogether an admirable work."

LUCAS'S THE OPEN ROAD

Compiled by EDWARD V. LUCAS, editor of "A Book of Verses for Children." Full gilt, in flexible green and gold covers. 16mo, $1.50.

Some 125 Poems of Out-Door Life by some 60 authors.

THE MEMOIRS OF THE BARONESS CECILE DE COURTOT

Lady-in-Waiting to the Princess de Lamballe. 8vo. (Ready in March.)

A work that gives a very intimate view of those troublous times in this early century when all eyes were turned on France.

SWEET'S PRACTICAL STUDY OF LANGUAGES

A Guide for Teachers and Learners. By Prof. HENRY SWEET, of Oxford. With tables and illustrative quotations. Xv. + 280 pp. 12mo, $1.50 net.

"Admirably done and will be found instructive both to the scholar and to the general reader, and uniformly suggestive throughout."—Prof. J. W. BRIGHT, of Johns Hopkins.

Second Edition, Revised, of "A veritable cyclopædia of music."—Dial.

LAVIGNAC'S MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

Illustrated. 8vo, $3.00.

"A style which can fairly be described as fascinating."—W. J. HENDERSON, Musical Critic of New York Times.

Readers sending the publishers their address, and referring to this advertisement, will receive circulars and catalogues as issued.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO.'S BULLETIN OF NEW BOOKS & NEW EDITIONS

1900

Fiction

Mary Johnston

TO HAVE AND TO HOLD. By MARY JOHNSTON, author of Prisoners of Hope. With Illustrations by HOWARD PYLE, E. B. THOMPSON, A. W. BETTS, and EMLEN MCCONNELL. Handsomely bound. 1 vol. crown 8vo, $1.50.

FROM the very uncommon interest this story has already excited it is safe to assume that it will have a phenomenal popularity. The remarkable power of Miss Johnston's previous story, Prisoners of Hope, is surpassed in To Have and to Hold. Indeed, the novels can easily be counted which equal this in the qualities that combine to produce a great work of fiction. The dramatic plot; the interest of the time and place and incidents in which the story moves; the historic figures which give it life and the impress of truth; the swift-moving scenes and the tremendous passions of the actors, — all these make this novel one of extraordinary power.

Like Prisoners of Hope, this is a story of the early years of Colonial Virginia, opening in 1621 with the arrival from England of a consignment of maidens to be sold to the colonists for wives, each being offered for 120 pounds of tobacco. Rolfe, who had married and buried Pocahontas, appears on the scene, but not as the hero. This is Captain Ralph Percy, by whom the story is told, — a noble account of a series of highly dramatic events and experiences, some caused by the colonists themselves; some by the London Company, which controlled the colony; others by the Indians, who watched them jealously; and still others by the unfriendly forces of Nature.

Over all the wild, stormy scenes, throughout the unfolding of this drama, Miss Johnston presides with the steadiness of Fate, and yet the touch, however firm, is always definite and fine.

PRISONERS OF HOPE. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

MISS JOHNSTON'S previous novel has been exceedingly popular and continues in great demand. The feeling of those who have read it is well expressed by the New Orleans States, which says: "Those who have not yet read Mary Johnston's 'Prisoners of Hope' have missed the enjoyment of a charming bit of contemporaneous fiction, and have deprived themselves of a pleasure only occasionally vouchsafed them in these days of abundant literary trash."

I. K. Friedman.

POOR PEOPLE. A Novel. By I. K. FRIEDMAN, author of "The Lucky Number." 1 vol. crown 8vo, $1.50.

THIS striking story deals with the life of the tenement district of Chicago, which the author insists is not to be confounded with that portion of the city wilderness known as the "slum,"—a confusion of ideas widely prevalent.

"Poor People" tells the story of love and artistic ambition surrounded by sordidness and poverty, of the struggle for existence and the influence of environment. The author has studied his subject by practically living the life of his characters in their own surroundings. These characters include a playwright, a watchmaker, a wood-carver, a furniture-maker, a saloon-keeper, a shoemaker who is also a witch doctor, a fortune teller, and others. The story shows careful observation, conscientious statement, a genuine sympathy, a fine sense of romantic possibilities, and an excellent style which — with the intrinsic interest of the story — makes the novel uncommonly attractive.

Rufus Mann.

THE PRELUDE AND THE PLAY. By RUFUS MANN. 1 vol. crown 8vo, $1.50.

THE scene of the first part of this story is laid in one of our oldest university towns. Its heroine, a college girl of talent and distinction, marries the captain of a victorious eleven. They go West to live; absorbed in business and politics, the husband gives less than due thought to his wife and home. Disappointed, she goes to Europe, and he follows later to win her back. This is a meagre outline of an uncommon story. In the brilliant conversations and in the conduct of the narrative the author shows great familiarity with the actual life as well as with the ideals of a university. Much skill and subtle discrimination are evinced in picturing the gradual alienation of husband and wife, and in reuniting them when each better understands the other. The story is evidently written by one moving in a large world of thought and experience and is likely to cause no little discussion.

Caroline Brown.

KNIGHTS IN FUSTIAN. A War-Time Story of Indiana. By CAROLINE BROWN. 1 vol. crown 8vo, $1.50.

MISS BROWN in this novel introduces us to a new field in fiction. It deals with the "Copperhead" insurrection incited by Clement L. Vallandigham in Indiana in 1863. This organized opposition to the Federal Government during the War for the Union was highly important in its possibilities, and by no means insignificant in its actual results. Yet it has never been recognized to any proper extent in histories, and now for the first time it figures as the basis of the plot of a novel.

The author has made an exhaustive study of the career of the Knights of the Golden Circle, and has availed herself of all opportunities to learn of them from those who were concerned in its discovery and suppression. The book presents several faithful pictures of the chief characters involved, and makes an especially strong portraiture of Governor Morton. There is a love story interwoven in a skillful fashion, and the descriptions of life and manners, and scenery and places, in the southern Indiana of that day are very effective. To older readers the story will be interesting as recalling a very memorable episode of the war they remember so vividly; to the younger it will appeal with the interest of historical narrative, as well as a most engaging love story.

Mrs. M. E. M. Davis.

THE QUEEN'S GARDEN. By MRS. M. E. M. DAVIS, author of "Under the Man-Fig," "The Wire-Cutters," etc. 1 vol. 16mo, $1.25.

AN orphan girl of Louisiana, Noel Lepeyre, left homeless and well-nigh friendless by the death of a relative who had cared for her after a fashion, writes of her state to her father's sister in New Orleans. The Aunt Marguerite had not known of her niece, for a family difference had separated the brother and sister, but she gladly welcomes her, and we are introduced to Noel, as she journeys to the city. On reaching her destination, a big, picturesque house in the French quarter, she finds that her aunt is ill with yellow fever, that the house is quarantined, and that she herself will not be allowed to leave it. She spends seven lonely days in the house and garden, mostly in the latter. She discovers that this is the garden of her father's stories to her, her aunt the Margot of his fairy tales, and she spends her time happily enough, singing and dreaming among the flowers. Enters Noel's next-door neighbor, and after the shadows of the fever have lifted, the Paul and Virginia story runs as it should, and ends in sunshine. Mrs. Davis depicts love episodes very charmingly, and her "Queen's Garden" promises to be a favorite story for summer reading.

Jack London.

THE SON OF THE WOLF. By JACK LONDON. 1 vol. crown 8vo, $1.50.

MR. JACK LONDON (who claims that this is not a pseudonym though it looks wonderfully like one) is a young man with a remarkably varied group of experiences. He has been almost everywhere, has seen far more lands and men than Tennyson's Ulysses ever dreamed of, and fortunately has a clever knack of describing what he has seen and done. A little section of his observations is given in "The Son of the Wolf." In it he draws upon his trip to and his travels in Alaska; and he sketches vivid pictures of life in the region of the Yukon, with its primitive conditions, its heroisms, privations, and struggles, the pleasure in and seeking for human companionship, and the effects which these produce upon the people.

Mr. London's most interesting character is Malemute Kid, who figures in nearly all of the nine stories in the book, and he extols his brave, helpful nature as well as his companions', who, in the battle with cold, darkness, and starvation, unwittingly show great strength and endurance. There are striking glimpses of the loyalty of these men one to the other, as shown in the spirit with which they assist a burglar to escape from the police, not out of sympathy with his act, but because they knew that the money taken was just the amount entrusted to a false friend and ruthlessly lost in gambling in the very house from which the burglar had taken it.

Mr. London calls his collection of stories "The Son of the Wolf," which is the Indian name for the white man, and he gives us very clear and striking descriptions of the Yukon Indians and their connections with their white neighbors. His style is strong and vigorous, and the book produces in the reader a deeper faith in the manly virtues of our race.

Rowland E. Robinson.

A DANVIS PIONEER. A Story of One of Ethan Allen's Green Mountain Boys. By ROWLAND E. ROBINSON, author of "Danvis Folks." 1 vol. 16mo, $1.25.

NO one is more skillful than Mr. Robinson in depicting the Green Mountain Yankee, a character sui generis, and in some respects unfamiliar to the great reading public. His "Danvis Folks," when it appeared a few years ago, won the discriminating approval of the best critics, who recognized the author's accurate representation of the peculiarities of northern Vermont character and dialect of fifty years ago. Mr. Robinson's new story, "A Danvis Pioneer," has for its hero the Gran'ther Hill of "Danvis Folks," but relates to an earlier period in the history of Vermont, — the period of Ticonderoga and the opening days of the Revolution. Gran'ther Hill is here a young man, and a comrade of Ethan Allen, who figures picturesquely in the story. It narrates something of the struggles of pioneer existence in opening up the outposts of New England, and is pathetic with its romance of Gran'ther Hill's life. It is scarcely necessary to speak of the historic accuracy of detail in this story. As the historian of his native state, Mr. Robinson has made a study of early conditions existing in Vermont, and here draws upon his knowledge for the setting of his tale.

"The Apparition of Gran'ther Hill," which first appeared in THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY in 1895, and deals with an episode that occurred many years later than those recorded in the longer story, is added as a fitting pendant.

William Sage.

ROBERT TOURNAY. A Romance of the French Revolution. By WILLIAM SAGE. Illustrated. 1 vol. crown 8vo, $1.50.

READERS who have torn their way with breathless eagerness through Dickens's most dramatic "Tale of Two Cities" will find in "Robert Tournay" a very similar interest. It relates to the same volcanic period, the French Revolution; more than one of the characters are drawn directly from the actors in the great tragedy; and the spirit and atmosphere of that tremendous time pervade "Robert Tournay" as they pervaded Dickens's Tale. Robespierre, the actor Gaillard, General Hoche, and the Marquis de St. Hilaire figure in the story and make it seem a part of the tragic experience of Paris during the Terror. Tournay is a thoroughly interesting character, — a patriot of the noblest strain and a lover of great loyalty. He is nearly omnipresent, vigilant, fertile in resource, a genuine chevalier to rescue those in distress, especially the aristocratic lady he loves, and though sometimes failing in his plans, yet generally achieving his purposes in a way very gratifying to the reader. In a word, "Robert Tournay" is an exceedingly interesting story of a period which stands out with terrible distinctness in the world's history.

Florence Converse.

THE BURDEN OF CHRISTOPHER. By FLORENCE CONVERSE, author of "Diana Victrix." 1 vol. 16mo.

WHEN "Diana Victrix" appeared some of the clearest-eyed critics welcomed it as not only a good story in itself, but as promising yet better stories from the same hand. One of the better stories has been written and bids fair to enlist a generous share of popular interest. It is a story of modern business life, its sharp competitions, and the many conditions of temptation and trial which confront a man who seeks to do business in a just and honorable way. These conditions impose the burden which Christopher bears, and the story of his burden and the bearing of it, with the sweet domestic story running through it, — these make a book of quite uncommon interest and significance.

Biography and History

Charles Francis Adams.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS. By his Son, CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS. In the American Statesmen Series. 1 vol. 16mo, gilt top, $1.25.

IT fell to the lot of Charles Francis Adams to render such service to his country as few Americans have ever rendered or have had the ability to render. He was an efficient factor in the struggle to put the government in the right before the War for the Union broke out; he was an immovable bulwark for the Union during the years in which he showed the most consummate skill as a diplomatist in England; and to him was largely due the triumph of the arbitration at Geneva of the Alabama question. His son has given a good account of his career and added an important volume to the series on American Statesmen.

Moorfield Storey.

CHARLES SUMNER. By MOORFIELD STOREY. In the American Statesmen Series. 1 vol. 16mo, gilt top, $1.25.

THE great distinction of Mr. Sumner was the ability and fidelity with which he served the cause of Freedom, giving to it the support of his large resources of scholarship and powerful eloquence, and proving faithful even unto death. Mr. Storey portrays his noble career as a champion of Freedom in the United States Senate, and his high services as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations during the years when wisdom and judgment were imperatively necessary. His work is a fitting tribute to one of the conspicuous and shining figures among the statesmen of the United States.

John Fiske.

THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY IN THE CIVIL WAR. By JOHN FISKE. With 18 Maps. 1 vol. crown 8vo, $2.00.

MR. FISKE here brings his breadth of view, his rare appreciation of the orderly movement of history, and his singular power of clear description and charm of narration to setting forth the course and significant events of the Civil War in the Mississippi Valley. His volume comprises nine chapters devoted to the following topics: From St. Louis to Belmont, Fort Donelson and Shiloh, The Navy and New Orleans, From Corinth to Stone River, The Vicksburg Problem, The Fall of Vicksburg, Chickamauga, Chattanooga, Nashville. The book does not attempt to cover the less important incidents but to treat those dominant movements which prophesied and led to the final result of the war. His narrative is intensely interesting. The strenuous vigor and superb valor of American soldiers and sailors are celebrated by the force of the simple story, and a noble chapter is added to American history. The volume is free from narrow partisanship. To be sure, Mr. Fiske surveys from a Northern point of view the movements he describes, but from so high a position that he sees with quite impartial clearness, — so that his book can be read with interest and a sense of fair play even by those who failed to win.

Ira N. Hollis.

THE CONSTITUTION AND THE NAVY UNDER SAIL. By IRA N. HOLLIS, Professor of Engineering at Harvard University. With many illustrations. 1 vol. 12mo.

THE recent naval triumphs lend peculiar interest to the history of the United States Navy. This naturally divides itself into two chapters, the first relating to the long period when the navy consisted of wooden vessels and was dependent upon sail power, the second relating to the much shorter term since steam began to be used and iron-built or iron-clad vessels have revolutionized naval warfare. Professor Ira N. Hollis in the volume above announced traces the history of the navy from its very small beginnings through the triumphs of John Paul Jones in British waters, Decatur and Preble in the Mediterranean, Perry on Lake Erie, down to the dawn of the day of the steam navy. The Constitution (more often called "Old Ironsides") is the best known vessel of the wooden era, and fitly stands as the representative of the navy in its earlier yet very glorious period. Many pictures of vessels lend additional value to Professor Hollis's interesting book.

F. M. Bennett.

THE MONITOR AND THE NAVY UNDER STEAM. By F. M. BENNETT, Lieutenant U. S. N. With many illustrations. 1 vol. 12mo.

LIEUT. BENNETT takes up the story of the United States Navy where Professor Hollis drops it, at the point where steam and iron became the leading factors in construction and motive power. He traces this history from the dramatic and revolutionizing duel between the Monitor and the Merrimac in Hampton Roads down through the triumphs of Farragut, the sinking of the Albemarle by the Katahdin, to the great exploit of the Olympia and her sister iron-clads under Dewey at Manila, and that of Sampson's fleet in the annihilation of Cervera's at Santiago. Lieutenant Bennett, by education and by experience, is peculiarly competent to tell this wonderful story, having been an officer on the New York during the war with Spain. His interesting book is fully illustrated.

Judson S. Landon.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES. By JUDSON S. LANDON, LL.D. Revised Edition. 1 vol. 8vo, $3.00.

THIS work by Mr. Justice Landon of the Supreme Court of New York, has borne well the use and criticism of eleven years. It has been used as a text book and reference book in leading universities, and has justly been regarded as one of the most authentic and important treatises on the Constitutional history and government of the United States. Judge Landon has now carefully revised it, has brought its text and references up to date, and has thereby greatly improved it and equipped it for a new career of usefulness. "Recent important events at home and abroad involving or promising to involve the scope of constitutional powers have received attention." Readers and students of political science who are specially interested in the perplexing problems connected with Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines, will find this book well worthy of study.

Azel Ames.

THE MAYFLOWER AND HER LOG. By AZEL AMES, M. D. 1 vol.

DR. AMES was led, through his great interest in all that relates to the Pilgrims, to make a very thorough analysis of the several documents connected with their Exodus. He has studied the history of the Speedwell; the model and rig of the Mayflower, her charter, officers, crew, passenger lists, quarters, provisions, lading, etc.; and he has from all accessible data constructed a Log of the Mayflower's first (and, historically, most important) voyage to America; and in an Appendix he reprints some of the most significant documents referring to the subject. Dr. Ames has done a very laborious piece of work, and is confident that by his analysis he has in many details reconstructed the history of the Pilgrim migration to Plymouth. He can confidently count on a very attentive reading for his book by many whose interest in the Pilgrim story is as great as his own.

Poetry

Edmund Clarence Stedman.

AN AMERICAN ANTHOLOGY. By EDMUND CLARENCE STEDMAN. Large-Paper Edition, limited to 300 Copies. In two volumes, 8vo, printed on high grade paper, and put up in boards with paper label. Vol. I. with a photogravure of a group of American poets, and on the title-page a vignette of Emerson's grave; Vol. II. with a photogravure portrait of Mr. Stedman. Price, $10.00, net.

THIS companion volume to "A Victorian Anthology" has been eagerly awaited since the appearance of the latter book in 1895. The English collection is in continuous demand, but, to American readers at least, this volume has even more elements of interest than its predecessor. The two books are uniform in shape, design, and editorial detail. The relation between "Victorian Poets" and "A Victorian Anthology" is repeated in that between "Poets of America" and "An American Anthology," except that in his new book Mr. Stedman has extended his view beyond the limit of the American critical treatise in order to represent the work of various recent poets. As a legacy from the nineteenth to the twentieth century, this final compilation thus derives a more inclusive value.

Like the Victorian Anthology this contains brief biographies of the writers quoted. These give much additional and permanent value to the work.

A book so purely American could not be better timed than at a crisis which bids fair to be the inauguration of a new era in all fields of our national life and art. It would be hard for the anthologist to find a range more inviting than is covered in these 850 pages, containing a record of our lyrical production from the early years of the nation to the present day.

The Large-Paper Edition is brought out in the best style of the Riverside Press, and uniform with the Large-Paper Edition of the Victorian Anthology. The frontispiece of the first volume is a photogravure of a group of American poets, — Longfellow, Whittier, Poe, Bryant, Lowell, Holmes, Whitman, and Lanier. The title-page contains a vignette of Emerson's grave. The second volume is embellished with a fine photogravure portrait of Mr. Stedman. Each copy of this Edition will bear Mr. Stedman's autograph.

Sir Walter Scott.

THE COMPLETE POETICAL WORKS OF SIR WALTER SCOTT. Cambridge Edition. With a Biographical Sketch, Notes, Indexes, a portrait, and an engraved title-page with a vignette. 1 vol. large crown 8vo, $2.00.

THE popularity of Sir Walter Scott as a novelist and as a poet is perennial. Multitudes who fancy they do not care for poetry make an exception in favor of "The Lady of the Lake," "Marmion," "The Lay of the Last Minstrel," and others of Scott's stirring and lyrical poems. The Cambridge Edition, in which his complete poetical works will shortly appear, will be a boon to a host of readers. It will not only contain all of his poems, but these will have all needed Notes, and a careful Biographical Sketch of Scott will introduce the book. It will have on an engraved title-page a fine view of Abbotsford, and Indexes of Titles and First Lines of all the poems will be given. Its fullness, accuracy, careful editing, and mechanical features should make it very popular.

Omar Khayyám

THE RUBÁIYÁT OF OMAR KHAYYÁM. Rendered into English verse by EDWARD FITZGERALD. Edited with Introduction and Notes by WILLIAM AUGUSTUS BROWN. Edition de Luxe, limited to 300 copies printed on hand-made paper. 8vo.

THE Second Edition of Fitzgerald's superb translation of the Rubáiyát of Omar Khayyám for some cause has never been treated with the special consideration it deserved, since it contained several quatrains of rare excellence, not included in some other Editions. This is now reprinted, together with additional quatrains from the First Edition and variants found in the Third and Fourth Editions.

Advantage has been taken of this issue to produce a book which in all details shall be a distinct contribution to the number of rare and artistic volumes. It will be printed on carefully selected hand-made paper, in a beautiful English type little known in this country.

The book will be printed in red and black throughout, but, with the exception of several initial letters cut on wood, will carry no decoration or illustration, reliance being placed on the dignity and simplicity of its typography to secure that harmony of effect inseparable from the best book-making. The binding will be in keeping with the character of the work, simple and artistic.

The Edition is so limited that the volume cannot fail to become at an early date a rare and exceedingly valuable book, unique in collections of the Rubáiyát.

William Wells Newell.

SONNETS AND MADRIGALS OF MICHELANGELO BUONARROTI. Rendered into English verse by WILLIAM WELLS NEWELL. With Italian text, Introduction, and Notes. 1 vol. 16mo, artistically printed and bound.

IF the verses of Michelangelo had come down as the work of an anonymous hand, their extreme beauty would have obtained for the unknown writer a place among poets of the first rank. Considered as the productions of the first of artists, of whose emotions and character they constitute an intimate revelation, they possess an additional value quite exceptional. Of these poems Mr. Newell has selected fifty, which he has provided with lucid renderings, intended to be read with pleasure simply as English poems. An account of Michelangelo as poet and suitable notes supply a key to the verse. The addition of the Italian texts will be appreciated by readers who desire to possess the thoughts of the artist in their original form. The book is brought out in very attractive style.

Essays

Edward Rowland Sill.

THE PROSE OF EDWARD ROWLAND SILL. With an Introduction comprising some Familiar Letters. 1 vol. 16mo.

THE three small volumes of Sill's poems have established his reputation as a poet of uncommon thoughtfulness and felicity of expression. Those who have come to recognize his high qualities will be glad to have a volume of his prose. Not a few may remember several striking papers by him which appeared in The Atlantic Monthly, papers of most valuable suggestion and equally valuable questioning of current usages in the domains of Education, of Criticism, and of Literature. This volume gathers the more important of these, and the reader will be struck by their timeliness, as if they were written to-day. At one period Mr. Sill wrote many brief essays that appeared in the department entitled The Contributors' Club, in The Atlantic Monthly; and in these he was uncommonly successful, always thoughtful, always bright, and seeming to have the rare faculty of saying a good thing in the best way. A generous selection of Sill's Club papers is included in this volume. In an Introduction are printed some of his letters, written to friends and characterized by the high intellectual and spiritual qualities which caused his friends to hold him in so deep and reverent regard. Altogether this book is a fine and permanent contribution to American literature.

Leon H. Vincent.

HOTEL DE RAMBOUILLET AND THE PRECIEUSES. By LEON H. VINCENT, Author of "The Bibliotaph." 1 vol. 16mo. Artistically printed and bound.

MR. VINCENT, whose interesting volume "The Bibliotaph" and lectures have given ample proof of his scholarship, especially in literature and literary history, has written a clever and entertaining sketch of the establishment and influence of the Hôtel de Rambouillet in the early part of the seventeenth century, — the source of the French Academy. Mr. Vincent describes the Marquise de Rambouillet and the famous women associated with her under the name of Les Précieuses; also the famous men who styled themselves Esprit doux. Among these associates were Richelieu, Bossuet, Corneille, Descartes, La Rochefoucauld, Balzac, Madame de Sévigné, and others. The high ideals which caused the forming of this organization lend to its history much dignity and interest, and Mr. Vincent's handsome little volume on it cannot fail of a hearty welcome.

Levi Leonard Paine.

A CRITICAL HISTORY OF THE EVOLUTION OF TRINITARIANISM AND ITS OUTCOME IN THE NEW CHRISTOLOGY. By LEVI LEONARD PAINE, Professor of Ecclesiastical History in Bangor Theological Seminary. 1 vol. crown 8vo.

THE general line of thought in this book is indicated by the following list of its Contents: Athanasianism, Pseudo-Athanasian Augustinianism, New England Trinitarianism, The Trinitarian Outlook, The Trinitarian Result, The New Historical Evolution, The Demand of the Historical Spirit, The Demand of the Religious Spirit, The Demand of the Intellectual Spirit, The New Theological Method, The Materials of the New Theology, The Construction of the New Theology, and The Leading Features and Benefits of the New Theology. Briefly, Professor Paine has strong confidence in the historic method of study and criticism; and he points out what he regards as grave defects in the methods and dogmatic results of the "orthodox" theology. He has equally strong confidence in the methods and results of the New Theology. His book invites and will reward careful study.

Josiah Royce.

THE CONCEPTION OF IMMORTALITY. Being the Ingersoll Lecture for 1899. By JOSIAH ROYCE, Professor in Harvard University and author of "The Spirit of Modern Philosophy," "The Religious Aspect of Philosophy," etc. 1 vol. 16mo, $1.00.

THIS is the fourth Ingersoll Lecture on Immortality given at Harvard University, following Dr. Gordon's "Immortality and the New Theodicy," Professor James's "Human Immortality," and President Wheeler's "Dionysos and Immortality." It is a strong and ingenious argument for man's immortality as the permanence of the Individual Man. The lecture is "an inquiry concerning what we mean by an Individual Man," and the conclusion shows that in defining him we define Immortality.

John Burroughs.

THE LIGHT OF DAY: RELIGIOUS DISCUSSIONS AND CRITICISMS FROM THE STANDPOINT OF A NATURALIST. By JOHN BURROUGHS. 1 vol. 12mo, uniform with the Riverside Edition of Burroughs's Works, gilt top, $1.50; 16mo, $1.25.

CONTENTS: A Retrospect, From the Artificial to the Natural, Science and Theology, Natural versus Supernatural, Faith and Credulity, In Confirmation of Huxley, The Modern Skeptic, The Decadence of Theology, Reason and Predisposition, Religious Truth, Points of View, "There is no God," A Hint from Franklin, Meditations and Criticisms.

Some of these chapters have appeared in periodicals, others are now printed for the first time. The book is a very frank and unconventional statement of Mr. Burroughs's views on matters theological and religious; it criticises current conceptions, but without irreverence or contempt or flippancy. Indeed, the book is a serious consideration of very important questions, and will be read with interest and profit even by those who differ from its conclusions.

R. R. Bowker.

THE ARTS OF LIFE. By R. R. BOWKER. 1 vol. 16mo.

MR. BOWKER'S object in this book is to promote a greater wholeness and symmetry in living, — to show that life need not be so fragmentary, so made up of unrelated aims and activities, as it generally is. In four chapters on Education, Business, Politics, and Religion, he seeks to convince readers that in each relation of human life, in every individual, living should be with a clear purpose, and inspired by the same principles of truth and order by which Science finds the universe bound together. In all its diverse features life should be systematically right, in a high sense artistic. Mr. Bowker's experience in business affairs, in connection with a great industrial corporation, in political activity and in travel, has inspired and shaped this book, which may be described as "an essay of reconciliation." It is inscribed, "In His Name, and with the names of Paul the World-Apostle, Darwin, Spencer, Gladstone, world's-men all."

H. G. Mitchell.

AMOS: AN ESSAY IN EXEGESIS. By H. G. MITCHELL, Professor in Boston University. 1 vol. crown 8vo.

PROFESSOR MITCHELL, who has won an enviable reputation by his scholarship and clear critical treatment in previous books, here treats the prophecy of Amos with similar learning and critical acumen. He regards the book of Amos, by reason of its early date, as of the first importance in the study of the religious ideas and institutions of the Hebrews. In the preface he says: "I have first tried to throw as much light as possible upon the conditions under which the prophet wrote; then to thoroughly understand what he wished to teach; and, finally, to assign him his place among the inspired authors of the Old Testament."

Miscellaneous

Jacob A. Riis.

A TEN YEARS' WAR. An Account of the Battle with the Slum in New York. By JACOB A. RIIS, author of "How the Other Half Lives," etc. With 12 Illustrations from photographs. 1 vol. 12mo, $1.50.

HERE is a book which must appeal with peculiar force to thoughtful readers. In it Mr. Riis, who is an expert in matters relating to the life of the poor in cities, gathers the latest fruits of his labors and observations among the wretched poor of New York. The sub-title condenses into a phrase the nature of the work. This book is uncommonly interesting and full of information. Its scope and the special subjects it treats may be learned from the titles of its chapters, — The Battle with the Slum, The Tenement House and its Blight, The Tenant, The Genesis of the Gang, Letting in the Light, Justice for the Boy, and Reform by Humane Touch. Two qualities render this book uncommonly valuable, — the observation which enables the reader to understand the facts clearly, and the humaneness which makes the reader hopeful and eager to help. Mr. Riis's courage and optimism are reflected in his dedication: "To the faint-hearted and those of little faith this volume is reproachfully inscribed by the Author."

Charles Allen.

NOTES ON THE BACON-SHAKESPEARE QUESTION. By CHARLES ALLEN, late Judge of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts. 1 vol. 12mo.

MR. JUSTICE ALLEN has been interested in the question of the authorship of the writings attributed to Shakespeare as a matter of evidence, and his legal habit has led him to make a digest of all the direct and all the indirect evidence he could find on this subject in Spedding, Brandes, Furness, Knight, Gervinus, Sidney Lee, Boas, Fleay, Ward, Elze, and other editors, commentators, and students of Shakespeare. He has also made a minute study of the legal terms used by Shakespeare and by his contemporary writers. In addition, he gives a chapter to Shakespeare's early life and education; another chapter gathers the expressed opinions of his contemporaries; and a third treats of his probable friends and acquaintances. The breadth of Judge Allen's survey and his judicial review of all available evidence lend positive value to his volume, which will be more satisfactory to Shakespeareans than to Baconians.

Fannie Hardy Eckstorm.

THE WOODPECKERS. By Mrs. FANNIE HARDY ECKSTORM. Fully Illustrated.

THIS is a new departure among bird books. Mrs. Eckstorm has taken up a single group of birds, — a family of marked individuality, the several species of which are for the most part easily observed and identified, a family which is represented in all parts of our country, — and she has given a lively yet accurate and orderly account of this family, treating somewhat exhaustively of five of the commonest species, and less fully of the others. There are also several chapters on the habits of woodpeckers in general and on their structural peculiarities. Their four tools of trade — bill, foot, tail, and tongue — are accorded special attention, and their interrelation of structure and habits is interestingly discussed. We are wont to think of the woodpecker as a carpenter, but Mrs. Eckstorm proves quite conclusively that he is really a miner; for in spite of the fact that he works in wood, it is with the miner's tools and in the miner's way. Though the book contains much interesting information, the author's chief aim has been rather to stimulate observation and study, and she has presented her subject in a manner admirably fitted to attain these ends. The volume will be attractively illustrated.

Thomas L. Livermore.

NUMBERS AND LOSSES IN THE CIVIL WAR IN AMERICA, 1861-65. By THOMAS L. LIVERMORE, Member of the Military Historical Society of Massachusetts, and, during the war, Major and Brevet Colonel of the Fifth New Hampshire Volunteers, and Colonel of the Eighteenth New Hampshire Volunteers. 1 vol. 8vo.

COLONEL LIVERMORE in this book sums up for permanent record the vast numbers of men engaged in the War for the Union, the numbers from each State furnished of infantry, artillery, cavalry, and marines, as well as those not attached to these arms of the service. He also enumerates the sad numbers of losses incurred. Colonel Livermore is so thorough in whatever he undertakes that his work will inspire confidence as entirely trustworthy.

W. J. Rolfe

A SATCHEL GUIDE FOR THE VACATION TOURIST IN EUROPE, By W. J. ROLFE, Litt. D. Edition for 1900, carefully revised to date, both the text and maps. A compact Itinerary of the British Isles, Belgium and Holland, Germany and the Rhine, Switzerland, France, Austria, and Italy. With Maps of the British Isles, Continental Europe, Switzerland, Street Plans of London and Paris, Tables of the Comparative Values of the United States and European Moneys, a Traveler's Calendar of Ecclesiastical and Popular Festivals, Fairs, etc. 18mo, roan, flexible, $1.50, net.

DR. ROLFE'S Satchel Guide covers the portions of Europe commonly visited by vacation tourists. It has grown steadily in popular favor, as it has been tested and proved to contain just the information that tourists desire and to be thoroughly reliable. This year's edition is specially desirable, since it contains useful matter concerning the Paris Exhibition of 1900.

John Burroughs.

SQUIRRELS AND OTHER FUR BEARERS. By JOHN BURROUGHS. With Illustrations. 1 vol. 12mo.

IT is a sad fact that many American children — and grown people, too — who are fairly intimate with lions and elephants could not tell a woodchuck from a chipmunk. For these as well as for more favored persons Mr. Burroughs has gathered most of his scattered notes on our smaller mammals, — the squirrels, the chipmunk, the woodchuck, the rabbit, the hare, the muskrat, the skunk, the fox, the weasel, the mink, the raccoon, the porcupine, the possum, the wild mice, — and has added to them much interesting new matter. The book is by no means a formal natural history. It is rather a series of reminiscences of certain acquaintances of the author's among the beasts of the field. It gives more or less complete life histories of the various animals, however, and many interesting facts about the lives of these little-known neighbors of ours are brought out. All is presented in Mr. Burroughs's own charming style and withal so simply that children will read it with pleasure.

THE ANGLO-SAXON REVIEW:

A Quarterly Miscellany.

EDITED BY

Lady Randolph Spencer Churchill.

Small folio, bound in leather, with a design in gold from an historic binding, $6.00 net.

TRAVEL AND BIOGRAPHY

Cook, Frederick A. Through the First Antarctic Night

The first contribution of our time to the literature of Antarctic exploration. The author tells of the sunless winter and long night of the unknown region, of the Fuegian giants, of the strange plants and animals, etc. Remarkable illustrations in color and over a hundred from photographs and drawings. (Cloth, $5.00 net.)

Smith, Goldwin Shakespeare: the Man

"An attempt to find traces of the dramatist's personal character in his dramas." (Cloth, 75 cents net.)

Tarbell, Ida M. Life of Abraham Lincoln

The only life of the great American statesman since that of Nicolay and Hay, which gives really new light on his character. Hundreds of absolutely new speeches, letters, and telegrams. (2 vols., illustrated, $5.00.)

POETRY AND DRAMA

Hauptmann, Gerhart The Sunken Bell

Illustrated Edition.

Mr. Charles Henry Meltzer's translation of this modern classic now being played by E. H. Sothern. The interesting illustrations show Sothern, Virginia Harned, and scenes from the play. There is also music by Aimé Lachaume. (Green watered silk, $1.00 net; paper, 50 cents net.)

Markham, Edwin The Man with the Hoe

An attractive edition of Mr. Markham's famous poem with notes. Interesting pictures and a facsimile of the rough first draft. (Paper, 50 cents.)

PRACTICAL BOOKS

A striking summary of the "unparalleled prosperity" in all branches of business which has swept over the country since the summer of 1899. (Illustrated, cloth, $1.25.)

Dugmore, A. Radclyffe Bird Homes

The only adequate work which covers popularly the study of the birds through their eggs and nests, their rearing and photographing. Illustrations photographed from life. (16 colored plates, 32 black and white, cloth, $2.00 net.)

Iles, George Flame, Electricity, and the Camera

John Fiske says of this impressive summary of man's material evolution from the cave man to the modern scientist: "It is one of the most fascinating books that I have seen in the last ten years." (Over 100 illustrations and 2 colored plates, cloth, $2.00 net.)

Robert, J. T. Primer of Parliamentary Law

Amid the many manuals on this subject there has not been till now an adequate text-book for the beginners or for clubs and individuals who find the reference works difficult to understand. (Cloth, 75 cents.)

Spring List for 1900

FICTION

Colton, Arthur W. — Bennie Ben Cree

"Being the story of his adventure to Southward in the year '62." A quietly humorous and whimsical but exciting tale of mutiny, shipwreck, and adventure. ("Short Novels," cloth, 50 cents.)

Crockett, S. R. — The Isle of the Winds

A thrilling historical romance of Scotland and the West Indies in the 17th century—drawn largely from an actual volume of memoirs and rare historical records. (Illustrated, green cloth, $1 50.)

Hope, Anthony — Captain Dieppe

Recounting the strange adventures which befell this gallant soldier of fortune by reason of his night's lodging in the castle of Fieramondi. ("Short Novels," cloth, 50 cents.)

Johnston, Charles — Kela Bai

"An Anglo-Indian Idyll" of great charm, giving the most intimate pi ture, full of color and reality of the unknown village life of India. ("Short Novels,' cloth, 50 cents.)

Jokai, Maurus — Debts of Honor

This convincing novel by the great Hungarian master hinges upon a so-called "American duel," the tragedy of which threatens to repeat itself in the second generation. (Cloth, $1.25.)

Jokai, Maurus — A Christian but a Roman

Instead of a Hungarian romance this is a dramatic tale of the decline of Rome and the terrible persecutions of the Christians by the abandoned rulers of the Empire. ("Short Novels," cloth, 50 cents.)

Kinnosuké, Adachi — Iroka: Tales of Japan

The first book of stories of the ever-fascinating "Home Land of the Sun" written in English by a native Japanese. (Cloth, $1.25.)

Mac Manus, Seumas — The Bewitched Fiddle

A collection of inimitable Irish tales, whose rollicking humor is apparent in the cover—which shows the scandalous effects of the "bewitched fiddle's" perversity in playing jigs in church. (Cloth, 75 cents)

Norris, Frank — A Man's Woman

The author of "McTeague" has here written a powerful novel hinging upon Arctic exploration, but presenting an every-day problem of life which actually confronts many a woman. (Cloth, $1.50.)

Parker, Clara — An Eventful Night

This amusing comedy of a Western mining town is full of action, and the hero finds himself irresistibly drawn into a romantic elopement by a chain of happenings beginning with his visit to the dentist. ("Short Novels," cloth, 50 cents.)

Spring List for 1900

Nature's Garden By Neltje Blanchan

Undoubtedly the finest popular book on wild flowers ever published. Its 32 superb colored plates and many black and white illustrations are all from photographs; while the author of "Bird Neighbors" has written a fascinating book, bringing out the wonderful relations between plants and their insect visitors. (7¾ x 10⅜, illustrated, cloth, $3.00 net.)

The Heart's Highway By Mary E. Wilkins

A romance of Virginia in the 17th century. Full of color, adventure, and dash, but with subtle character development often lacking in the historical novel. (Illustrated by Fred. M. Du Mond, cloth, $1.50.)

The Voice of the People By Ellen Glasgow

A strong and vivid novel of life in Virginia after the Civil War, in which the conflict between the native force of the hero and the rigid aristocratic prejudices of his neighbors supplies a dramatic motive. (Cloth, $1.50.)

A Woman Tenderfoot in the Rockies By Grace Gallatin Seton-Thompson

A charming outdoor book by the wife of the famous artist-author, giving the woman's side of the trips during which he gathered material. It gives much specific advice on camping outfits for women. (Illustrated by Seton-Thompson, Ashe, and with marginal drawings, cloth, $2.00.)

The Taming of the Shrew By William Shakespeare

Player's Edition. With introduction by Miss ADA REHAN.

Miss Rehan's personal opinion of, and experiences in, the part of Katharine the Shrew are most interesting (particularly as she is now reviving the play). (Illustrated with 8 photogravures, cloth, $1.25.)

The Sea-Farers By Mary Gray Morrison

A novel of life in a New England seashore town among the descendants of the old-time "merchant princes." A dramatic portion of the story deals with a belated piratical episode in the Mediterranean. (Cloth, $1.50.)

A Country Without Strikes By Henry Demarest Lloyd

This interesting volume describes the working of the compulsory arbitration court of New Zealand, where strikes are unknown. ($1.00 net.)

THE BEST EDITION OF

John Ruskin's Works

Illustrated Cabinet Edition in 26 Volumes

John Ruskin stands, without a peer, the most eloquent and original of all writers on nature, art, and architecture in the world.

As a writer of beautiful English, too, his "Sesame and Lilies," "Mornings in Florence," etc., have long been recognized as masterpieces.

No previous edition of Ruskin has fully met the requirements of exacting book lovers; the Illustrated Cabinet Edition, we believe, will.

Printed from beautiful, clear type, well spaced with indented side notes on deckle-edge, soft laid paper, equal to the finest hand-made as far as results in printing are concerned, and producing a volume light in weight.

The full-page illustrations number 288, and include all the colored plates, steel engravings, etchings, and process cuts, in all the original tints. In addition to the full-page illustrations are the cuts in the text—many hundreds of them altogether. A large proportion of these are from drawings by Mr. Ruskin, and are not only attractive in appearance, but are absolutely necessary for a proper interpretation of the text.

The volumes are bound with flat backs and uncut edges, gilt tops, in a handsome cloth, with an especially appropriate full gold back design. Size, a tall 12mo.

The works will be sold in complete sets or separately as follows at $1.50 per volume.

Modern Painters,	5 volumes.
Stones of Venice,	3 "
Laws of Fesole, A Joy Forever, Our Fathers Have Told Us,	1 volume.

IMPORTANT PUBLICATIONS.

GEBER.

A Tale of Harun the Khalif. By KATE A. BENTON.

Harun Al Raschid is a name familiar to every one, but little has been written of his time and period except in histories that are slightly known and almost inaccessible.

This romance of Mrs. Benton is one seriously considered and successfully carried out. It deals with the latter part of the reign of Harun and tells the story of the fall of the great Barmek family.

Geber, after whom the novel is named, and of whose great skill as a physician we have only a fragmentary knowledge, of course plays a prominent part; but the story is not so much the record of one man as it is a gorgeous and splendid picture of a court that was marked by a magnificence and splendor not surpassed by the pomp of the greatest monarchs the world has known.

Size 4¾ x 7½ inches, 496 pages, $1.50.

SANDBURRS.

By ALFRED HENRY LEWIS Author of "Wolfville."

"Sandburrs" is a collection of Mr. Lewis' characteristic sketches that have appeared in the newspapers during the last two years. There are half a dozen "Wolfville" stories, where we meet our old friends, "Doc Peets," "Jack Enright," and others, and there is a series of "Annals of the Bend," in which we are introduced to the shades and shadows of some lower grades of New York life. There are also a number of character sketches—all marked by Mr. Lewis' peculiar humor, and depicted with his well-known literary skill.

Illustrated, 4¾ x 7½ inches, cloth, $1.50.

THE CAMBRIC MASK.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.

A novel by this versatile and powerful writer in an entirely new vein is sure of a warm welcome.

This strongly American story is one of the present time, with a stirring plot, a love story of an unusual and interesting sort, and many of the evidences of a keen and loving appreciation of nature, such as were shown in Mr. Chambers' stories of the Maine Woods in "The Haunts of Men"—stories that such discerning critics as "Droch" and James L. Ford look upon as showing this author at his very best.

Size 4¾ x 7½ inches, 336 pages, cloth, $1.50.

A MASTER OF CRAFT.

By W. W. JACOBS.

A new novel by this delightful humorist. The hero, Captain Flower, is the captain of a coasting vessel of the kind made famous by Mr. Jacobs in "Many Cargoes" and "More Cargoes." The Captain confesses to having a great fascination for women, and when the story opens he is engaged to three of them, and in one case under an assumed name.

His struggles to escape a breach of promise suit and other threatened calamities furnish Mr. Jacobs with a story that is well fitted to his humor.

Size 4¾ x 7½ inches, cloth, $1.50.

THE MINX.

By MRS. MANNINGTON CAFFYN.

A story of English society life that is not commonplace—a story without a villain or an adventuress, but none the less one that is full of interest and holds the reader enthralled.

It shows literary workmanship of the highest quality, and is witty, graceful, and convincing.

Size 4¾ x 7½ inches, 335 pages, cloth, $1.50.

LYING PROPHETS.

By EDEN PHILLPOTTS, Author of "Children of the Mist."

In "Lying Prophets" the author does for Cornwall what he does for Devonshire in "Children of the Mist." The two books are closely similar in character, and admirers of one are sure to enjoy the other.

"This work is not a light story, written to charm away an idle hour. It is a powerful study of contemporary life, religion and art, which will deeply interest all who have outgrown a taste for literary bonbons and who can appreciate a masterly effort." — CHICAGO RECORD.

"An excellent novel. A piece of serious and admirable work. . . . Not unworthy of a place with George Eliot's 'Adam Bede' and 'Mill on the Floss.'"—London Pall Mall Gazette.

"Art there certainly is of the purest literary quality in 'Lying Prophets.'"—BOSTON HERALD.

Size 4¾ x 7½ inches, cloth, 496 pages, $1.50.

"THIS book is my dream child."—EGERTON CASTLE.

THE LIGHT OF SCARTHEY.

"'The Light of Scarthey' has the charm of a daringly imaginative conception; the poetry and dream of passion are in it; the sunshine of romance, the magic and picturesque situation, are felt throughout its pages; but when we have reckoned with all this we are moved to a warmer admiration by the manner in which Mr. Castle makes his personages live, causes their adventures and their environment to seem as natural as they are new and exciting. . . . The book is full of vitality and atmosphere."—New York Tribune.

Size 4¾ x 7½ inches, cloth, 456 pages. Fifth edition, $1.50.

FOR THE SAKE OF THE DUCHESSE.

A Page from the Life of Vicomte de Championnet. By S. WALKEY.

A stirring story of adventure that should take rank with the best romances of the day. The Vicomte was a soldier of fortune, and one of the most famous duellists of his time. For love of the Duchesse de Berri he undertakes to secure some papers necessary to expose a political intrigue, and to do this he has to personate another man whom he resembles. The story deals with the exciting complications that ensue.

New edition, illustrated by Archie Gunn.

Size 4¾ x 7½ inches, 247 pages, $1.25.

THE TRANSVAAL FROM WITHIN.

By J. F. FITZPATRICK.

An extraordinary record of the occurrences of 1895-96 in the Transvaal, and of the conditions that led up to them.

Lord Rosebery in a recent speech said, "But if you wish to read a history of the internal economy of the Transvaal I would simply suggest to you that you should procure 'The Transvaal from Within'—a book which seems to me to bear on every page and in every sentence the mark of truth."

With index. Size 6 x 9 inches, cloth, 452 pages, $3.00.

MARCELLE OF THE QUARTER

By CLIVE HOLLAND, Author of "My Japanese Wife," etc.

A charming romance with the scene laid in Paris. The chief characters are Bohemians, but of the best class, and Mr. Holland's pictures of their lives are exceedingly interesting and truthful.

Size 4¾ x 7½ inches, cloth, $1.25.

For sale by all booksellers or sent prepaid.

SPRING BOOKS.

The Chronic Loafer.

By NELSON LLOYD.
8vo, cloth, $1.25.

The Chronic Loafer is a new story of American life.
The Chronic Loafer abounds in flashes of ready wit, deep pathos and genuine humor.
The Chronic Loafer is full of wisdom, wit, incident and constant surprises.
"Mr. Lloyd has a terse, journalistic style and a ready wit that ought to make The Chronic Loafer a very active factor in the book market."—The Critic.

White Butterflies.

By KATE UPSON CLARK.
8vo, cloth, $1.25.

Kate Upson Clark has long been recognized as the most versatile writer of short stories. White Butterflies contains many examples of her best work. Mrs. Clark possesses fine, high imagination, and a strong unaffected style. White Butterflies is a volume of her best stories, including The Charcoal Burners, Lyddy Washburn's Courtship, The Case of Parson Hewlett, and other tales of Western and New England life.

NINTH THOUSAND.

Trinity Bells.

By AMELIA E. BARR. 16 full-page illustrations by C. M. Relyea. 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

One of our bookbuyers writes us: "Every American parent owes Mrs. Barr a vote of thanks for writing a book which may be placed with impunity in the hands of our boys and girls. There are plenty of novels and always books for boys, but it is difficult to find a good, strong, pure and interesting story for girls. Trinity Bells is the best book of its kind. It should be on the shelves of every good library."

THE PRESS SAYS:

"Trinity Bells is one of the best stories ever written by Amelia E. Barr. It is a tale of old New York, and shows to perfection the charm and subtle power of the author."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

"Catharine Van Clyffe herself is a sweet little maid, and her story is well worth the telling."—The New York Tribune.

"The charming little Dutch maiden who is the heroine of the tale will make an irresistible appeal to all who love a good, clean, wholesome story, that old and young may read with enjoyment."—The Detroit Free Press.

Two Important War Books

DEALING WITH THE BOER WAR.

ALBERT STICKNEY.

The Transvaal Outlook. By ALBERT STICKNEY. 8vo, cloth, with maps printed in colors, $1.50.

Dodd, Mead & Company take pleasure in announcing that Mr. Stickney's remarkable paper on the war with the Boers is now ready. The author has considered the great questions of the war, and the paper from the military and political standpoint is full of interest. He considers the political aspect of the struggle, the causes that gave rise to it, the military situation, and predicts the probable conclusion. His deductions, it may be stated, are in favor of the Boers, and the leaning to their side is perhaps greater than in that of any work heretofore published in America. The work is made doubly valuable by the addition of many colored maps.

G. W. STEEVENS.

From Cape Town to Ladysmith. By G. W. STEEVENS, author of "With Kitchener to Khartum," etc. $1.25.

The publishers take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the American rights of G. W. Steevens' last work. The writer, probably the best known war correspondent of the time, has written many books of travel and many brilliant records of fighting, but to none of these will attach the peculiar and melancholy interest which can be claimed for this, his last great work of graphic descriptive writing.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the author died of enteric fever, a captive in Ladysmith. The march to that place and the desperate siege of it are wonderfully described, and it will take rank among the great "adventure" writing of the time.

The Swastica
(Sign Manual)
Edition of Rudyard Kipling.
15 Volumes, Cloth and Half Calf, Including the Copyright Novels.

Without question KIPLING is to-day the foremost figure in English literature. No other writer could, through the medium of four verses of twelve lines each, "THE ABSENT-MINDED BEGGAR," create for charitable purposes a sum now approximating $200,000. We have already felt the new impetus which this poem has given his works, and shrewd booksellers, forecasting demand, are placing orders for this authorized edition.

The New Illuminated Holy Bible.
Teachers' Edition.

Containing "HELPS" specially written by Rev. N. F. PELOUBET, Rev. A. F. SCHAUFFLER, Rev. DAVID GREGG, Professor A. H. SAYCE, and other well-known scholars. Contains six hundred illustrations by the greatest living illustrators, produced at a cost of over $50,000. Clear type, new maps, self-pronounciug text, marginal references, etc. Supplants the non-illustrated Bibles at the same cost.

The Revised Rand-McNally Atlas
Size, 16 x 22.

Under an arrangement with the RAND-MCNALLY COMPANY we agreed to take a certain quantity of this work each year, they to keep it thoroughly "up-to-date." The volume contains, in addition to other matter, complete official information concerning our new possessions in every part of the world, the maps, statistical diagrams, and ready-reference index being recognized as absolutely authentic. This work formerly sold at $20.00 by subscription.

17 New Editions of the Waverley Novels.
From $3.50 to $50.00, Retail.

One of the curious features of the Fall and early Spring season has been the revival of the demand for SCOTT'S WORKS, mainly caused, we believe, by the present public interest in romantic fiction. Although the prices of these editions are increased ten per cent. they are still twenty-five per cent. below other editions. New plates, the beautiful series of illustrations painted expressly for the Royal Association for the Promotion of the Fine Arts in Scotland, the text of the Dryburgh Edition, etc., etc.

SPRING ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Campaign of the Jungle
Or Under Lawton through Luzon

Being the Fifth Volume of the "Old Glory" Series. By EDWARD STRATEMEYER. Illustrated. Cloth, medallion cover, 316 pages, $1.25.

The story has a truthful and graphic historical setting in two expeditions of the noble General Lawton, whose portrait adorns the cover, the first being that directed against Santa Cruz on the Laguna de Bay, and the second from Manila to San Isidro, through one hundred and fifty miles of jungle. Each book of the famed "Old Glory" series seems to gain in interest upon its predecessors, and its progress has been an unbroken triumph of the worthy presentation of such reading as active boys need and will have.

Andy Dodge
The History of a Scapegrace

By MARK PIERCE PENDLETON. Cloth, gilt top, portrait, $1.25.

This is a distinctively American novel by a well-known journalist who draws his characters with a free, strong hand. It is praised by William Dean Howells for its honest work and fidelity to truth, and tells with fine realism the scrapes, struggles, and ultimate success of a so-called "wild" youth, who is, at the same time, able, manly, and American to the backbone.

Discovery of a Lost Trail

By CHARLES B. NEWCOMB, Author of "All's Right with the World." Cloth, $1.50.

"Discovery of a Lost Trail" is a simple study of that strange and beautiful thing that we call life, but grand in its scholarly simplicity. In the words of the author, "plain suggestions of confidence, patience, gladness, and decision often bring us back to the trail we have lost through the uncertainty of our own power and freedom."

The Pastor's Helper
A Complete Ritual for the Various Duties Connected with his Office

Arranged for the Baptist, Congregational Methodist Episcopal, Unitarian, and Universalist denominations. By REV. N. T. WHITAKER, D.D. Full leather, flexible covers, gilt edges, $1.50; Cloth, flexible covers, red edges, $1.00.

The distinctive forms for the several denominations named can be relied on as being those fully authorized and include forms for marriage, funeral and baptisma services, together with forms for the ordinance of the Lord's Supper and reception of members, also all church letters, including transfer of membership, license to preach, and letters missive. The book concludes with an admirably complete digest of parliamentary law.
